Israel Warns Arabs On Plane Attack

Threatens To Retaliate

TEL AVIV (AP) — Another Arab guerrilla attack on an Israeli airliner brought a threat today from Transport Minister Moshe Carmel of retaliation against Arab airlines.

Following the machine gunning of an El Al airliner in Zurich, Switzerland, Tuesday night, Carmel told the Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv: "The Arab governments who are concerned with preserving the international airlinks of their countries would do well to take immediate steps to hold back the saboteurs, and thus avoid the deterioration and destruction of the airways of the Middle East.

Carmel was the first Israeli official to blame Lebanon for the guerrilla attack in December on an Israeli airliner in Athens. Forty-eigh htours later Israeli commandos raided Beirut airport and destroyed 13 planes of Lebanon's Middle East Airlines.

The U.S. State Department and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant condemned the Arab attack in Zurich, and Thant expressed hope there would be no reprisal. But leading Israeli newspapers promised retaliation.

The semiofficial newspaper Lemerhav declared: "The sabotage of airways cannot be one-sided. The Israeli security authorities must reach the proper conclusions with regard to this extension of Arab terror."

Hayom, published by the right-wing Gahal party, said Israel "must react because her neighbors understand no other language."

The guerrillas, three men and a woman, opened up on the El Al Boeing 720 from behind a snowbank Tuesday night as it taxied down a runway at Zurich's Kloten airport to take off for Tel Aviv. Six of the 27 persons aboard, most of them Israelis, were wounded.

The most seriously injured were trainee pilot Yoran Peres, hit in the abdomen by three bullets. He was reported out of danger following an emergency operation at the Zurich Cantonal Hospital.

Zurich police said an Israeli security agent jumped from the plane through an emergency hatch after the first bursts of fire and killed one of the attackers with a shot through the head from his automatic pistol.

Swiss firemen raced to the scene and arrested the other three Arabs. They said they had to overpower the Israeli agent "otherwise he would have killed the others as well."

The Israeli and the three Arabs were in custody today and were to appear before an examining magistrate. It was assumed the Israeli agent would plead self-defense.

Sources at Bern, where the Swiss Cabinet met to discuss the incident, said Israel was expected to file an early request for the extradition of the three Arabs. But legal experts there said Switzerland is virtually certain to reject this, because the Swiss legal code stipulates jurisdiction over crimes committed in the country.

Police said the attackers also hurled incendiary bombs and hand grenades at the plane, but they failed to explode. Three parcels of plastic explosives were found in the Arabs' rented car.

Soon after the attack on the Amsterdam-Tel Aviv flight, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a pro-Marxist guerrilla group based in Jordan, issued a communique assuming "full responsibility" for the attack. It said the raid was in reprisal for "brutality and torture" committed on Arab civilians by Israeli authorities in occupied territory.

PFLP is the same group that claimed credit for the hijacking of an El Al plane over the Mediterranean last July 23 and the shooting up of an El Al airliner in Athens Dec. 26. The latter, in which one passenger was killed, prompted an Israeli reprisal raid on Beirut International Airport in which 13 Lebanese airliners were destroyed.

Foreign Minister Abba Eban said the Zurich attack "demonstrated the murderous characteristics" of Arab guerrilla organizations, encouraged by the "atmosphere of compassion demonstrated toward these organizations after the Athens attack." He pointed out that the U.N. Security Council "issued not one word of condemnation of the Athens attack."

4-Lane Span Gets Engineer Backing

By TOM FUTHEY

A four-lane toll bridge just upstream from the present Chester span is termed the most feasible location for a replacement of the obsolete bridge by consulting engineers.

The site is one of three listed in a preliminary feasibility report on the project as submitted to the West Virginia Road Commission by Wilbur Smith Associates of New Haven, Conn.

The other sites, which were outlined in a recent meeting of city officials and Ohio Highway Department representatives, were opposite Washington St. and across the tip of Babb's Island.

The engineering firm, retained by the road commission, estimated construction of the new span could cost $10 million. A bond issue of nearly $12 million would be required for financing the project.

MAL BRENNAN, director of advanced planning for the road commission, said the construction estimate does not include operating and maintenance costs or funds for financing of bonds, but does include basic construction, rights-of-way, utility and maintenance.

Fred Van Kirk, project engineer for urban transportation studies in the Weirton - Wheeling area in the urban planning division of the SRC, said the preliminary report limits itself to the bridge structure, toll plazas and what he termed, "reasonable approaches" to the bridge.

He said that while certain types of bridges have standardized plans, he does not believe that plans for an existing structure can be transferred totally to the East Liverpool - Chester site.

Brennan added that a finalized report will be forthcoming from Wilbur Smith probably about one month after the SRC turns in its review and com-

Protection Mapped By Six Nations

American Secret Service Men Aid In Coordinating Plans

LONDON (AP) — Police of six nations, working under understandable tension, are completing plans to protect President Nixon against organized demonstrators and individual fanatics and screwballs during his European tour.

In Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Italy, security agents are charting routes, vantage points for potential assassins, assembly points for demonstrators and compiling lists of local "nuts" who might do something weird if they got the opportunity.

American Secret Service men are in London, Paris, Brussels, Bonn, West Berlin and Rome coordinating arrangements with local authorities.

Cmdr. John Lawlor of Scotland Yard, who dealt with the riots at the American Embassy last year, has sent a list of potential troublemakers, including Continental agitators, to all immigration officers.

Militant opponents of the Vietnam war have served notice they intend to give the President a hot time in London. Edward Davoren, secretary of the Revolutionary Student Federation, claims that 50 organizations have formed a "Hot Reception for Nixon Committee." He promised 60,000 at one dem-

Soviet Invitation To Nixon 'Hinted'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has refused to knock down speculation that President Nixon already has been invited to visit the Soviet Union.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Zigeler was asked Tuesday whether Nixon had been invited to meet with Soviet leaders and said he didn't have anything to report on the subject.

Reminded that was not a denial, Ziegler said:

"I wouldn't discuss anything in relation to this speculation."

Talk about an invitation escalated following Nixon's hour-long conference Monday with Soviet Ambassador Anatoliy Dobrynin—a session that lasted twice as long as scheduled.

In his most recent news conference, Nixon scoffed at "instant summitry" but indicated he would be glad to talk with Soviet leaders later after full advance preparations.

There was no indication whether an invitation—if one was made—was specific or couched in vague diplomatic terms that simply left the matter open.

Ziegler flatly ruled out the possibility Nixon would add Moscow to the intinerary of his five-nation Western European trip that starts Sunday.

No American president has ever visited the Soviet Union. An invitation to Dwight D. Eisenhower was canceled in 1960 after the U2 spy plane was shot down over Russia.

Soviet leaders were believed to have been interested in meeting with former President Johnson in hopes of offsetting criticism for the invasion of Czechoslovakia, a goal some say they still hope to achieve by an early Nixon visit.

To Meet Commissioners

Voter Group Sets Protest On Hancock Sheriff Ballots

A committee on voter rights in Hancock County, headed by a New Cumberland woman, will try to rally "at least 150" residents to a meeting of the County's Court of Commissioners tonight at 7 to discuss the disputed sheriff.

Mrs. Anita M. Porter heads the committee of about 40.

The committee is circulating 5,000 copies of a mimeographed sheet raising questions relative to the election of Lou Smoleski and the subsequent revision of the results by the West Virginia Supreme Court.

The court ruled that some ballots in Precinct 32 at Weirton were improperly signed and as a result Republican Ralph Patrick was named to the office.

THE CIRCULAR discusses what the committee terms a "secret" meeting held Jan. 8 when the ballots were examined. The circular alleges that the meeing was supptressed from the public, and quotes what are described as three excerpts from the records, as follows:

"Mr. Zagula: I would suggest, Mr. Nogay, these results are not to be given to any news media, which might tend to confuse the general public.

"Mr. Nogay: This shall not be in any way discussed or publicized.

"Mr. Cuomo: (Counsel for Mr. Patrick) Including this meeting."

Mrs. Porter said the quotes were obtained from the minutes of the meeting.

He said the committee has sent telegrams to Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr., Jay Rockefeller, secretary of state, and Chauncey

Jury Verdict Due Today In Theft Charge

LISBON — A jury verdict is expected today in Common Pleas Court in the trial of Linda Evans, 19, of East Liverpool RD 2, charged with receiving and concealing property stolen last October from the Alice Satow residence in Glenmoor.

Judge Joel H. Sharp charged the jury this morning.

Miss Evans took the witness stand Tuesday to deny statements of the state's key witness, Randy Hanlon, 18, of 760 Sophia St., East Liverpool, that items stolen from the Satow dwelling were taken to her home.

Hanlon said he and Robert Means, 19, of East Liverpool RD, broke into the Satow house and took a portable TV, sewing machine, two radios, a revolver and a bank containing about $12.

Hanlon testified means' sister, Betty Taylor, and Miss Evans came to Glenmoor for them in Betty's car and took them to the Evans residence, where the stolen articles were examined in the living room in the presence of Miss Evans' parents, Rodney and Peg Evans.

The only exhibit in the trial was the TV set which Hanlon said he bought from Means for $5 and surrendered to East Liverpool police a couple of weeks later after confessing the theft to county authorities.

Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Taylor, 20, also refuted Hanlon's statements Tuesday as Means did on Monday. Means is under indictment in connection with the Satow burglary, while Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Taylor are awaiting trial on charges of concealing stolen property.

Few Hundred For Monthly Draft Studied

Pentagon Planners Point To 3 'Ifs;' Laird Eyes Lottery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon planners say the draft ultimately could be cut to just a few hundred men a month if enough money and effort are spent on recruiting, improving morale and polishing the services' image.

While more money is important, the officials say a higher pay scale won't be enough alone to attract and hold the volunteers needed even when the Vietnam war ends and U.S. forces are cut by 700,000 men.

Few officials are for a complete abolishment of the draft.

While the Pentagon tries to work out a long-range plan moving in the direction of an all-volunteer force, efforts also are under way to erase draft inequities, chiefly by switching to a lottery system, provided Congress approves.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Tuesday this will be one of the first pieces of legislation the new administration will send to Congress. Aides estimated the proposal will go to Capitol Hill within a couple of months.

Nixon To Strip OEO Of 2 Major Programs

TAKE YOUR TIME IN '69

The investigation continued today into the fiery death of three northeast Ohio residents who were killed about 1 p.m. Tuesday when the pickup truck in which they were riding pulled from a side road and collided with a tractor-trailer rig hauling oil. The accident occurred at the intersection of Ohio 9 and 172 at New Garden.

Authorities were back at the scene late this morning seeking additional information as to the cause of the crash.

Joint funeral services will be held Saturday in Cuyahoga Falls for Homer L. Vanover, 41, of Canton, the pick up truck's driver and his cousin, 28-year-old Wendell L. Hayes of Cuyahoga Falls, who was a passenger along with William Virgil Early, 44 of Stow in Portage County. Services for Early are pending.

THE DRIVER of the rig, Beecher Hodges Jr., 44, of Youngstown, is in "guarded" condition at Salem Central Clinic. He was driving for the Buckeye Oil Co. of Youngstown, which he operates. He was hauling waste oil, which Investigating Ohio Highway Patrol officers reported did not catch fire after the collision.

The Columbiana County coroner, Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, said all three bodies were badly burned, but listed the men's injuries from the crash as the cause of their deaths. He theorized that the gasoline tank on their small truck ruptured upon impact with the rig, that the men were splattered with fuel and burned when the truck caught fire.

One man was reported severed lengthwise and another's head nearly was cut off. The driver's body was the most badly burned.

The truck was owned by Hayes, although Vanover was driving the 1969 vehicle at the time of the crash.

The Winona - Butler Fire Department was called to extinguish the flames. The fire lasted about five minutes, witnesses reported.

Dr. Koloszi said Hayes and Early apparently were jammed out of the truck by the force of the impact.

THE DEATHS brought to seven the number killed in traffic accidents in the county to date this year.

Services for Vanover and Hayes will be held at the Carr Memorial Home in Cuyahoga Falls while services for Early will be at the Dunn and Quigley Funeral Home in Stow.

Vanover was a cab driver in Canton, Hayes was employed at the Augustus Concrete Co. in Cuyahoga Falls and Early was the owner-operator of a service station in the West Akron area.

U.S. Troops Battle Reds Near Saigon

Enemy Said To Be Moving For Attack On Capital Sector

SAIGON (AP) — American Air Cavalrymen clashed briefly today with North Vietnamese troops who military sources said were moving into attack positions 35 miles northeast of Saigon.

Sharp fighting also was reported 18 miles north of Saigon, in the Mekong Delta south of the capital, and along the jungle trails from Laos and the A Shau valley, west of Da Nang and Hue.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported killing 145 enemy soldiers at a cost of six Americans and 13 South Vietnamese killed, 13 Americans and 33 South Vietnamese wounded and seven South Vietnamese missing.

Allied troops also uncovered many more tons of rice and munitions near the Cambodian border, another indication the enemy is still trying to stock up for an offensive in the Saigon area, military spokesmen said.

Merchants Set Plans For 'Washington Sale'

Final plans were made for the "Washington Birthday Sale" to be held Saturday when the East Liverpool Merchants Association met Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Elson Davis, chairman of the committee in charge, reported on the project.

Jack Webster, new manager at Montgomery Ward & Co., was welcomed officially into the association by President Charles Averell.

The group went on record against the proposed Ohio gross receipts tax, with each member to express opposition to members of the General Assembly.

Thomas Phillips was appointed chairman of the committee to assist with the pottery festival in June. Phillips also recently was appointed a member of the festival board.

A general discussion was held on downtown improvement projects and working with the planning coordinator relative to parking.

E. R. Chandler, executive secretary of the Chamber, requested the cooperation of the merchants for Chamber of Commerce Week March 23-29.

The group is considering a spring promotion.

The next meeting will be March 18.

Beaver Local Faces Delay In Launching Kindergarten

The possibility that construction of a new high school addition may not be completed until November posed a problem for Beaver Local School District officials today.

The board of education Tuesday night awarded contracts totaling $589,427 for school enlargements, including additions at the high school, Public School, West Point and Calcutta buildings.

Officials of the Riley Construction Co. of Salem, which received the contract for the high school and Public School general construction, said ground would be broken within two weeks.

However, they said that the 10 new classrooms at the high school may not be completed until November.

Supt. Roy Cashdollar had hoped the entire project would be ready for the start of the 1969-70 fall term in September, so various changes, including the launching of a kindergarten program, could be made.

Supt. Cashdollar said transfer of the ninth grade to the high school building, and the fifth grades to the Public School would permit the start of kindergarten in the elementary buildings which now have five grades.

Difficulty in obtaining kindergarten teachers for start of sessions in November was emphasized by Cashdollar who said the decision on whether to have kindergarten has not yet been made.

The projects at the other three buildings will probably be completed by September, it was announced.

The Kreidler Construction Co. of Youngstown received contracts for a classroom at West Point at $13,165 and restrooms at Calcutta at $19,391.

Riley's contract is $293,100 for the high school addition and $70,000 for the Public School additions.

The George Cattrell Co. of Toronto received a $137,788 contract for all plumbing, heating and ventilating.

The Sayre Electric Co. of East Liverpool received a $42,849 contract for electrical work at the high school, while The Lamp Post of East Liverpool received an $8,560 contract for electrical work at the Public School and a $1,722 contract for work at West Point.

Supt. Cashdollar said the contract for electrical work at the Calcutta building has not yet been awarded pending a conference with Joseph Dickey Co. about possible revisions.

A $485,000 bond issue was approved by voters last year for the improvements. Additional money for the projects will be obtained from the district's building improvement fund and from state sources, Supt. Cashdollar said.

Judge Supports Liquor License At Crucible Club

BEAVER — The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board has been directed by Judge Ralph Scalera to issue a catering club liquor license to the Crucible Management Club in Industry.

Judge Scalera overruled a 1967 board decision which refused the club's application for a liquor permit as a "resort" area under a law entitling it to a license beyond the quota assigned a municipality.

The board ruled the area in which the club was located was not a resort in nature. However, Judge Scalera in a lengthy opinion, referred to the numerous recreation facilities on the club's 262 acres, including a swimming pool, 9 - hole golf course, 3 million gallon lake, clubhouse with dining rooms, all valued at some $350,000.

Rotary Hears Talk On JA

Three Junior Achievement members were guests during the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

They are Don Hancock, Larry Hobbs and Rick Hunsicker, all members of the Junior Achievement radio project.

Hancock, who reviewed the program, pointed to the problems that developed after fire swept JA headquarters during the blaze that gutted the Siff Building on the Diamond.

He said five companies are functioning this year, compared with six previously, and declared that what he feels is lack of proper organization is jeopardizing the program.

Hancock explained that advertising is the lone source of revenue from the radio project.

Hobbs said if anyone is interested in advertising or helping Junior Achievement they can contact the members or the adviser, Thomas Wiegand.

The Rev. H. Gene Toot, a new Rotary Club member, seved as program chairman.

Search Fails For Airplane Carrying 35

HAWTHORNE, Nev. (AP) — Ground crews in jeeps and brush buggies searched into the night for the "gamblers special" plane with 35 persons aboard that disappeared Tuesday over rugged high desert country.

They found nothing.

The Civil Air Patrol, unable to join the search because of drizzle and low clouds, said it would have planes in the air as soon as the weather cleared.

The DC3 plane carrying 32 passengers and 3 crewmen vanished near the California-Nevada border 200 miles northeast of Los Angeles. It was on a predawn flight from Hawthorne to two southern California cities, Burbank and Long Beach.

Jerry Thornburg, deputy commander of the Walker Lake Civil Air Patrol Squadron, said 40 of his group scoured the country from Hawthorne to Mount Montgomery, 40 miles to the southeast.

The airline has refused to disclose the names of passengers. An employe of the airline said the crew consisted of pilot Fred Hall, copilot Ray Haner of Long Beach and a stewardess.

The plane was on the return leg of a junket that had rought people from Burbank and Long Beach to Hawthorne Monday evening for a night in the town's gambling casino.

The plane was operated by Mineral County Airlines which does business as Hawthorne Nevada Airlines and specializes in gambling flights.

Bargain rate flights from California to Nevada are a promotional device often used by the casinos.

The country south and west of Hawthorne, where the search is centered, is barren desert and ragged valleys that end abruptly at the towering east rampart of the Sierra.

Marking the landscape are ghost towns and roads fallen into disuse since the booming gold and silver era of the 1870s.

Ray Bliss To Bow Out

The Republican party is losing the services of a capable man.

Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss has submitted his resignation to President Nixon, effective in mid-April.

Akron's political organization genius is stepping down from his national post to return to his insurance business after a spectacular record in his four years as chairman.

Mr. Bliss was instrumental in rebuilding the Republican party after the Goldwater debacle in 1964.

HIS SUCCESS on the national level matched what he had accomplished for the GOP Republican party in Ohio during his more than two decades as state GOP chairman.

It is not just the loss of a fine national chairman that tinges his resignation with an extra measure of regret, it is the manner in which it came about.

After last November's election, the Nixon camp let it be known that Mr. Bliss did not measure up to the requirements of a glib national chairman with showmanship qualities that could capitalize on the opportunity afforded by wide television coverage.

The word went out that Mr. Bliss was about to be turned out to pasture.

But a howl went up from surporters of the chairman and Mr. Nixon asked Mr. Bliss to stay on in his post.

That was five weeks ago.

NO ONE IS SAYING that subtle pressure has been applied in past weeks to influence Mr. Bliss to step out of the picture, although it may be true.

But it is inescapable that Mr. Bliss was placed in an awkward position by the whole episode and arrived at the conclusion that his effectiveness had been impaired.

Thus, the resignation letter was forwarded to President Nixon.

We salute Chairman Bliss for his years of effort in behalf of the party and deeply resent the way the matter was handled by the Republican hierarchy.

Welcome back to Ohio, Ray, you have more than enough class for us.

'Very Interesting'

Coroners in Beaver County and other counties across Pennsylvania have been submitting blood test samples of traffic victims to the state health department under a new law.

First results prove what police and traffic experts have known a long time — drivers are drinking themselves and others to death.

Of the 17 blood samples turned in so far under the new procedure, eight traffic victims showed enough alcohol to classify them as intoxicated.

Very interesting . . . That drink could be an ounce of prevention — if you turned it down.

Preparing For Emergencies

Once again an effort is being made in the Ohio General Assembly to pave the way for use of Ohio's fine State Highway Patrol during a riot.

This time the bill seems to circumvent all the objections that arose over the years when such a proposal had been made.

Ohio taxpayers have invested vast sums in developing the outstanding State Highway Patrol, but its use has been limited by law to highways and traffic and the protection of state-owned property. It could serve — and would be willing to — in other emergencies which local enforcement officials are incapable of handling.

THE BILL NOW overcomes objections of the two staunchest opponents in past years: (1) labor unions whose officials felt the patrol might be used at some time to "break" a strike and (2) the sheriffs, particularly in the less populous counties, who seemed to fear their jurisdictions might be invaded.

The current bill would make the State Highway Patrol available only on call of a mayor or city manager in a city and a sheriff in a county. If the city or county law enforcement officials don't want the patrol, they don't need to call for it. But if they do — as some might — the patrol would be there to help. It's use in a labor dispute would be prohibited.

Ohio has had several instances where riots have been too much for local agencies to handle. What about a private college in a small town or county? What about the not infrequent Russells Point and Lake Erie summertime riots of unruly college age kids? What about the chain-bearing motorcycle gangs who have wrought havoc in small communities at times?

Local agencies could handle none of them successfully, because they simply did not have the manpower. Even Cleveland—Ohio's largest city—needed the help of the Ohio National Guard on two occasions during riots in recent years.

The governor, of course, can send in the National Guard. But this organization, capable as it is militarily, is of necessity comparatively slow to respond and its personnel is completely untrained in policework. Its best function is to clear an area and keep it cleared. It is not trained for pursuit and arrests.

THE STATE HIGHWAY PATROL does have riot training. Its personnel is more efficient in this respect than most police and sheriff's departments.

Col. Robert M. Chiaramonte, the patrol superintendent, has gone on record with the offer to be available for help if permitted to help. He has no desire to go into a local jurisdiction uninvited, but would be willing to do so if needed. He said he could muster up to 200 patrolmen within two hours.

This is too good an offer to pass up. Ohio citizens would hope the patrol never would be needed for a riot. But no riot can be predicted in advance, and when one occurs, speed is needed to combat it. The patrol should be available.

In the light of the experience of recent years in Ohio, the Assembly should enact this permissive legislation with unanimity.

A Calm Beginning

The calmness that has spread over Washington with the installation of the Nixon administration is a welcome change from the helter-skelter, wheeler-dealer atmosphere that was a trademark of the Johnson years.

Mr. Nixon's measured pace and cool assessment of the many tentacles of the Washington octopus is in sharp contrast to the intensely emotional environment surrounding Mr. Johnson in the final stages of his administration.

NATURALLY President Nixon's first actions as the nation's chief executive have been both criticized and praised.

Many Americans are thoroughly satisfied with the cautious manner of Mr. Nixon while others are pressing for quick action on a multitude of national problems.

So far the President has signaled his interest in reorganization of the Post Office Department, reform of the Electoral College, reappraisal of national defense, tax law reform and restructuring the draft.

His planned trip to Europe demonstrates a worldwide rather than a provincial outlook. His deep interest in peace is demonstrated by his support of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty and his willingness to discuss peaceful coexistence with Red China.

MR. NIXON also has not shown much imagination in the difficult — but-oh-so-important — area of national economy which cries out for decisive action.

But we are only into the second month of Mr. Nixon's four years and certainly do not expect a rash of miracles.

Letters To The Editor

I had a look at the future East Liverpool that the new Planning Commission had laid out. We have a lot to look forward to if we don't mind paying double taxes. Maybe they will wind up with City Hall parking lots and a city park with high taxes and city codes to stop anyone from doing any interior work like plumbing.

There never is any money to fix up the muddy streets and ditches like the deal on Maine Blvd. If that had been a parking lot or some new equipment—all well and good. There are high sewage and water rates plus city income tax and also the additional $5 for taxes which is more money for City Hall to play with.

We took up money to have our street seal-coated about three years ago, and they did not even come back to put on a second seal-coat — there was to be three coats. Now we have nothing but mud. The grader dug up the lower part the first winter. So you have what your neighborhood thinks of the City of East Liverpool.

GLENN E. COLLINS
1715 Anderson Blvd.

P.S. Thank you very much Mr. Editor. I really love this place. I work in two potteries in West Virginia 16 hours a day to live and keep a roof over our heads.

(Editor's Note: City Planning Coordinator Don Eckert was asked to respond to some of the statements in Mr. Collins' letter.)

The Planning Commission "laid out" this plan along with the help of more than 100 people from all walks of life and both political parties. City taxes have not been doubled nor would they be doubled under present plans.

Planning is being carried out by spending as little in local funds as possible.

Parking is one of our urgent problems, and our city income would be much better if adequate parking were made available.

There is no prohibition against citizens doing their own improvement work in the city codes which are intended for the protection of the citizens. You can do any work in your house or build your own home, providing you do it in a safe and sound way.

The city has done everything possible under the present conditions of Maine Blvd., filling holes with slag and sand. Improvement of the street was recommended a number of years ago.

The city sewage and water rates are not high compared to other communities and the sewage plant we operate. Nor do we any longer pollute the Ohio River as in previous years. The sewage plant was a mandatory requirement by the federal government in which we had no choice.

The new $5 auto license tax will be used to repair streets and roads within the city, doing more for city conditions than the money would under a $5 county tax for county highways.

City records indicate no collections were made for seal - coating Anderson Blvd. If this is the street to which you are referring.

DON ECKERT
Planning Coordinator

Funds To Crush Cosa Nostra

WASHINGTON — Lack of money is the root of all evil when it comes to crushing the Cosa Nostra.

A few million dollars more would pay for what the Justice Departments Organized Crime and Racketeering Section needs—some 75 additional analytical and investigative young crusading attorneys. But once more, in secretive executive sessions starting Feb. 17, Appropriations Committee congressmen prepare to pinch nickles so hard that cries of the buffaloes will drown out the department's pleas for sufficient funds to battle the Mafia in equal footing.

Victor Riesel

Last year, when the Organized Crime Section sought money to hire 75 additional staff lawyers (because only 12 or 13 were available for action across the nation), Congress gave it nothing.

So the anti-racketeering section had to "borrow the slots"—meaning the established civil service positions—from other Justice Dept. sections, which then were deprived of vital manpower.

THE APPROPRIATIONS Committee members are sophisticated men. They know what Attorney General John Mitchell meant when he said recently that crime is "intimidating" and crushing us.

They know that the Justice Dept.'s Mafia desk has but seven anti-Cosa Nostra strike forces operating now, when there should be at least 15 just to keep up with the crime syndicates. Twenty such crime-cracking units would be ideal. And the Republican task force is urging President Nixon to create 25 special units.

A strike force is a special Justice Dept. band which moves into an area (usually a single city) and concentrates its efforts there for years, while coordinating the talents and information of other government agencies, such as the Labor and Treasury Depts., which are law enforcement groups.

Typical is the 12-man strike force, newest of the lot, set up in racket-ridden New Jersey last December. Headed by young U.S. Special Attorney Jim Featherstone, it's not on a crash basis. It's moving slowly but, like a high powered electro-magnet, it will seek out corruption in the cities. It will search the books of scores of local unions now terrorized or infiltrated by the Jerry Catana mob.

Granddad of the seven strike forces now is the two-year-old Buffalo operation. Justice Dept. fellows say it will be around a long time. Thus, by the time the New Jersey strike force has some two years under its belt, "Buffalo" will be a smooth four-year-old machine and the other operations in Philadelphia, Miami, Detroit, Chicago and Brooklyn will be senior members, too.

IT'S A SIMPLE TECHNIQUE—just set up new strike forces as soon as the youngest, which is now Newark, has its staff coordinated and its specialists knowledgeable and its investigators zeroing in on the Mafia's top command in its own region.

Each special force requires five attorneys and some seven probers, I'm told. Thus, another six concentrations would take some 75 men, if you throw in a special troubleshooter or two to ride the circuit.

As each unit grows older and its files fill more computer memory tapes in more cities, there soon would be a network of strike forces which could, with a coordinated exchange of intelligence, wipe out the gory heirs of Al Capone —and ward off the new and greedy third generation of smooth and educated young aspirants for the ancient Chicago title.

ACTUALLY, SOME JUSTICE DEPT. estimates reveal that a network of some 25 strike forces could be financed with an additional $35 million annually.

Somehow, someone always seems to be spending that money on projects where much of it is lost, stolen, strayed or simply wasted. It took some nine years, for example, for the first task force to get rolling. Actually, it was Secretary of State William Rogers, then Attorney General, who developed the theory of placing special anti-racketeering groups in selected crime centers.

But the concept was buried until Organized Crime Section chief, Henry Petersen, disinterred, revived and reworked it, and got the first strike force on the road to Buffalo.

It will be fascinating next week to note what the congressmen will do. It will be hypnotic to watch Congressman Cornelius E. Gallagher, publicly accused of coziness with some underworld citizenry.

This is his dramatic chance to make a public speech or two backing up the strike forces, urging his colleagues to provide the funds for a wide network of such units, and calling on the Congress to promise further financial support if the Cosa Nostra gets real rough in the counter-attack.

Restless Voters

Maybe the vote for George Wallace, or someone who takes his place on a third-party ticket, will be larger in 1972 and bring a closer result than in 1968. Maybe the American people in the congressional election 21 months hence will manifest their discontent also by voting against incumbent senators and representatives who will have failed to do something about the "law and order" situation in the United States.

The Johnson administration did not come to grips with this issue. The Nixon administration thus far has been engrossed in "planning" and in getting organized and there is no clear indication as yet whether the problem will be tackled positively.

EVIDENCE HAS BEEN available for a long time inside our government which proves that the revolts in several universities and colleges in this country — many of them involving white and black militants — are part of a well-organized Communist strategy. This is true also in 25 other countries around the world.

Law-enforcement agencies here know that Communist money and Communist planning have been behind a number of the radical and violent outbursts which have been witnessed in America since 1966. In fact, there is information in government quarters indicating that some of the big "marches" on Washington in recent years and the "demonstrations" in other cities where disturbances have occurred were in a substantial way aided by Communists.

One wonders why committees of Congress — which by their hearings have pointed up this trend — have not been successful in getting action by the Congress itself. A few members, however, now are beginning to speak out. Rep. Edith Green, Democrat of Oregon, said the other day:

"I'm sick and tired of a minority making it impossible for the majority who want to do so to attend classes. . . .

"We are faced with the fact that we have romantic revolutionaries and anarchists who are simply out to destroy the colleges and universities in which they are enrolled. . . . If a person on a college campus is not there to get a college education, he does not have a right to an education paid for by taxpayers."

BUT THE GOVERNMENT can assert another right — what has long been called "equal protection of the law." This doctrine can be applied in a statute providing for the arrest and imprisonment of any persons who violate the right of students or teachers to be free from physical interference in the pursuit of the educational process. Certainly seizure of college property is as much of an offense as the takeover of any private property elsewhere or the interruption of any business operations by force.

Unquestionably, the Communists have in some instances gotten into the planning of more trouble only after student organizations have initiated the rebellions. But the government agencies here have collected plenty of data showing that Communists from other parts of the country came across state lines to help foment and intensify disorders. This interstate phase permits federal intervention.

Believing that they will not be prosecuted, the Communists have gotten bolder and bolder, and have actually joined in the meetings of certain student organizations which have so often made headlines. Many of the college presidents have been aware of this but have been hesitant to call in police or state troops for fear of further outbreaks of a more violent nature.

THE CONGRESS of the United States, along with the President, has a clear responsibility to put "law and order" ahead of anything else and to secure the immediate enactment of stringent laws dealing with the Communist conspiracies as well as with the flagrant disregard of individual rights being practiced every day on the campuses of American collges. Public opinion favors an abandonment of alibis, excuses and tactics which have meant "passing the buck" back and forth between the federal and state governments.

The significant fact is that the combined Nixon and Wallace vote of 41 million as against 31 million for the Democratic ticket in November 1968 was largely based on the belief that "law and order" should be promptly restored as the basic principle of American life.

Ray Bliss To Bow Out

The Republican party is losing the services of a capable man.

Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss has submitted his resignation to President Nixon, effective in mid-April.

Akron's political organization genius is stepping down from his national post to return to his insurance business after a spectacular record in his four years as chairman.

Mr. Bliss was instrumental in rebuilding the Republican party after the Goldwater debacle in 1964.

HIS SUCCESS on the national level matched what he had accomplished for the GOP Republican party in Ohio during his more than two decades as state GOP chairman.

It is not just the loss of a fine national chairman that tinges his resignation with an extra measure of regret, it is the manner in which it came about.

After last November's election, the Nixon camp let it be known that Mr. Bliss did not measure up to the requirements of a glib national chairman with showmanship qualities that could capitalize on the opportunity afforded by wide television coverage.

The word went out that Mr. Bliss was about to be turned out to pasture.

But a howl went up from surporters of the chairman and Mr. Nixon asked Mr. Bliss to stay on in his post.

That was five weeks ago.

NO ONE IS SAYING that subtle pressure has been applied in past weeks to influence Mr. Bliss to step out of the picture, although it may be true.

But it is inescapable that Mr. Bliss was placed in an awkward position by the whole episode and arrived at the conclusion that his effectiveness had been impaired.

Thus, the resignation letter was forwarded to President Nixon.

We salute Chairman Bliss for his years of effort in behalf of the party and deeply resent the way the matter was handled by the Republican hierarchy.

Welcome back to Ohio, Ray, you have more than enough class for us.

'Very Interesting'

Coroners in Beaver County and other counties across Pennsylvania have been submitting blood test samples of traffic victims to the state health department under a new law.

First results prove what police and traffic experts have known a long time — drivers are drinking themselves and others to death.

Of the 17 blood samples turned in so far under the new procedure, eight traffic victims showed enough alcohol to classify them as intoxicated.

Very interesting . . . That drink could be an ounce of prevention — if you turned it down.

Preparing For Emergencies

Once again an effort is being made in the Ohio General Assembly to pave the way for use of Ohio's fine State Highway Patrol during a riot.

This time the bill seems to circumvent all the objections that arose over the years when such a proposal had been made.

Ohio taxpayers have invested vast sums in developing the outstanding State Highway Patrol, but its use has been limited by law to highways and traffic and the protection of state-owned property. It could serve — and would be willing to — in other emergencies which local enforcement officials are incapable of handling.

THE BILL NOW overcomes objections of the two staunchest opponents in past years: (1) labor unions whose officials felt the patrol might be used at some time to "break" a strike and (2) the sheriffs, particularly in the less populous counties, who seemed to fear their jurisdictions might be invaded.

The current bill would make the State Highway Patrol available only on call of a mayor or city manager in a city and a sheriff in a county. If the city or county law enforcement officials don't want the patrol, they don't need to call for it. But if they do — as some might — the patrol would be there to help. It's use in a labor dispute would be prohibited.

Ohio has had several instances where riots have been too much for local agencies to handle. What about a private college in a small town or county? What about the not infrequent Russells Point and Lake Erie summertime riots of unruly college age kids? What about the chain-bearing motorcycle gangs who have wrought havoc in small communities at times?

Local agencies could handle none of them successfully, because they simply did not have the manpower. Even Cleveland—Ohio's largest city—needed the help of the Ohio National Guard on two occasions during riots in recent years.

The governor, of course, can send in the National Guard. But this organization, capable as it is militarily, is of necessity comparatively slow to respond and its personnel is completely untrained in policework. Its best function is to clear an area and keep it cleared. It is not trained for pursuit and arrests.

THE STATE HIGHWAY PATROL does have riot training. Its personnel is more efficient in this respect than most police and sheriff's departments.

Col. Robert M. Chiaramonte, the patrol superintendent, has gone on record with the offer to be available for help if permitted to help. He has no desire to go into a local jurisdiction uninvited, but would be willing to do so if needed. He said he could muster up to 200 patrolmen within two hours.

This is too good an offer to pass up. Ohio citizens would hope the patrol never would be needed for a riot. But no riot can be predicted in advance, and when one occurs, speed is needed to combat it. The patrol should be available.

In the light of the experience of recent years in Ohio, the Assembly should enact this permissive legislation with unanimity.

A Calm Beginning

The calmness that has spread over Washington with the installation of the Nixon administration is a welcome change from the helter-skelter, wheeler-dealer atmosphere that was a trademark of the Johnson years.

Mr. Nixon's measured pace and cool assessment of the many tentacles of the Washington octopus is in sharp contrast to the intensely emotional environment surrounding Mr. Johnson in the final stages of his administration.

NATURALLY President Nixon's first actions as the nation's chief executive have been both criticized and praised.

Many Americans are thoroughly satisfied with the cautious manner of Mr. Nixon while others are pressing for quick action on a multitude of national problems.

So far the President has signaled his interest in reorganization of the Post Office Department, reform of the Electoral College, reappraisal of national defense, tax law reform and restructuring the draft.

His planned trip to Europe demonstrates a worldwide rather than a provincial outlook. His deep interest in peace is demonstrated by his support of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty and his willingness to discuss peaceful coexistence with Red China.

MR. NIXON also has not shown much imagination in the difficult — but-oh-so-important — area of national economy which cries out for decisive action.

But we are only into the second month of Mr. Nixon's four years and certainly do not expect a rash of miracles.

Letters To The Editor

I had a look at the future East Liverpool that the new Planning Commission had laid out. We have a lot to look forward to if we don't mind paying double taxes. Maybe they will wind up with City Hall parking lots and a city park with high taxes and city codes to stop anyone from doing any interior work like plumbing.

There never is any money to fix up the muddy streets and ditches like the deal on Maine Blvd. If that had been a parking lot or some new equipment—all well and good. There are high sewage and water rates plus city income tax and also the additional $5 for taxes which is more money for City Hall to play with.

We took up money to have our street seal-coated about three years ago, and they did not even come back to put on a second seal-coat — there was to be three coats. Now we have nothing but mud. The grader dug up the lower part the first winter. So you have what your neighborhood thinks of the City of East Liverpool.

GLENN E. COLLINS
1715 Anderson Blvd.

P.S. Thank you very much Mr. Editor. I really love this place. I work in two potteries in West Virginia 16 hours a day to live and keep a roof over our heads.

(Editor's Note: City Planning Coordinator Don Eckert was asked to respond to some of the statements in Mr. Collins' letter.)

The Planning Commission "laid out" this plan along with the help of more than 100 people from all walks of life and both political parties. City taxes have not been doubled nor would they be doubled under present plans.

Planning is being carried out by spending as little in local funds as possible.

Parking is one of our urgent problems, and our city income would be much better if adequate parking were made available.

There is no prohibition against citizens doing their own improvement work in the city codes which are intended for the protection of the citizens. You can do any work in your house or build your own home, providing you do it in a safe and sound way.

The city has done everything possible under the present conditions of Maine Blvd., filling holes with slag and sand. Improvement of the street was recommended a number of years ago.

The city sewage and water rates are not high compared to other communities and the sewage plant we operate. Nor do we any longer pollute the Ohio River as in previous years. The sewage plant was a mandatory requirement by the federal government in which we had no choice.

The new $5 auto license tax will be used to repair streets and roads within the city, doing more for city conditions than the money would under a $5 county tax for county highways.

City records indicate no collections were made for seal - coating Anderson Blvd. If this is the street to which you are referring.

Funds To Crush Cosa Nostra

WASHINGTON — Lack of money is the root of all evil when it comes to crushing the Cosa Nostra.

A few million dollars more would pay for what the Justice Departments Organized Crime and Racketeering Section needs—some 75 additional analytical and investigative young crusading attorneys. But once more, in secretive executive sessions starting Feb. 17, Appropriations Committee congressmen prepare to pinch nickles so hard that cries of the buffaloes will drown out the department's pleas for sufficient funds to battle the Mafia in equal footing.

Victor Riesel

Last year, when the Organized Crime Section sought money to hire 75 additional staff lawyers (because only 12 or 13 were available for action across the nation), Congress gave it nothing.

Ex-Area Man Killed During Viet Fighting

Word has been received of the death of a former Chester resident during action in Vietnam.

Killed was John Pinney, 21, who had been serving in Vietnam for more than a year.

Mrs. Raymond C. Rogers of Louisiana Ave., Chester, a relative, said the body has been returned to San Francisco, with funeral services indefinite.

Pinney was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Pinney of China Lake, Calif., formerly of Chester. The mother is the former Gertrude Harmon of Newell. He was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Farrel Pinney of Phoenix, Ariz. also former Chester residents.

Pinney is survived by his wife, a lifelong California resident, and a son, about 2, residents of China Lake.

ments on the Phase I draft report.

THE DRAFT contains seven chapters, including an introduction, and outlines such items as growth analysis, traffic studies, existing conditions, location analysis, estimated traffic revenue, preliminary design and project cost and preliminary project feasibility.

Brennan pointed to the location just upstream from the present Chester bridge as the position deemed most feasible by the preliminary study. He said that location is based on the most feasible bonding investment, but there are "a lot of other factors and the other two sites are in the ball park, too."

The consulting firm, based on its studies, sees the entire project as feasible, Bernnan said. He added the figures for construction outlined in the report are "basically for determining which location is most feasible and whether there is any justification for any bridge at all."

He said all the factors outlined in the study are subject to change, since a review currently is under way at the State Road Commission in Charleston. In addition, a copy of the study has been sent to the Ohio Highway Department asking for comments on the proposal.

OFFICIALS AT Columbus said the report was received last week, but that Tom Major, deputy director of planning and programming, was out of town then and so as yet has not seen the report nor has he reviewed the basic proposals.

Copies of the report have been sent to the Steubenville - Weirton Area Transportation Study committee and to Charles Taylor, secretary - treasurer of the Northern Hancock County Development Organization, who has been actively seeking a solution to the present limits posed on the existing structure. Taylor is sending a copy of the report to Atty. Francis Lang, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's highway committee.

Lang said he and Taylor will attend a meeting of the technical committee of SWATS Feb. 27 when the group will review the report.

Construction at all three locations would necessitate some relocation of existing structures, either in Chester or East Liverpool.

The fact that the span will require a toll probably comes as no surprise to area residents since former West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith nearly a year ago predicted that was the only way the new bridge could be financed.

2 Hospitalized In Area Accident

Two men were treated at City Hospital for injuries received in a traffic mishap early this morning on former Route 30.

Charles Taylor of Maple Dr. was northbound in a 1968 coach when he lost control while rounding a curve and struck a 1962 station wagon driven by Joe E. Kenney of 725 Cadmus St.

Taylor suffered a lacerated forehead and lip plus abrasions and contusions and is listed in satisfactory condition. Kenney is listed as fair with contusions of the chest and abrasions of the knees.

Taylor was cited for reckless driving.

Refuse Plan Delayed

Wellsville Council Sets New Look At Rate Hikes

Wellsville Council Tuesday agreed to a further study on increasing refuse collection rates after efforts to bring in an ordinance providing for increases failed at a meeting Tuesday night.

Councilmen Russell Keefer, Paul Todd and Robert Taggart supported the motion while Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi abstained from voting, saying he was not at a caucus meeting when the proposed new rates were suggested. Councilmen Jack Call and James B. Phillips, who is ill, were absent.

Prior to the vote, Todd, refuse committee chairman, reported that five Council members, Mayor William Daugherty and Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, attended the caucus meeting.

A rate boost for private homes from $4.50 to $6.50, non-city homes $5.40 to $8 and adjustment of commercial rates was arrived at to make up the difference of additonal mileage, labor and depreciation to the packer, he said. Due to the closing of Wellsville's dump by the state health department, the city has entered into a contract with East Liverpool to haul refuse to the Madison Township land-fill.

A recommendation by Councilman Glenn Mathess, member of the water and sewage committee, to order in legislation to increase the minimum water rates from $4 to $6 to meet a deficit and increased costs in the department also hit a snag.

He stated the figures were upon the caucus meeting.

After some discussion in which members disagreed with the recommendation, Council President Wayne Rose suggested another caucus to some agreement. No vote was taken.

A letter from Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara regarding water increase rates was read by Lombardozzi, acting clerk. O'Hara stated that during his term as city solicitor, he found the water department situation in a deplorable condition. He pointed out that the biggest problem lies in failure to raise rates in keeping with the cost of services. The department has actually operated in the red at least $10,000 a year since 1965, he claimed.

His letter further stated: "Also the method of collection of moneys due the department needs to be revised. It is a sad state of affairs to have to revert to collecting water bills through the county tax system. Actually you don't collect all that is due anyway.

"A 20 per cent increase in water rents should be put in force immediately, with minimum raised $1 a quarter. Also Council should set the wheels in motion to reorganize the department."

A written request from the Chamber of Commerce for Council to consider widening of 5th and Main St. to eliminate the hazard for trucks turning down 5th St. into an alley was referred to the street and light committee. Charles Donaldson, representing the Chamber of Commerce, had made a suggestion at the Oct. 15, 1968, meeting.

Mathess, finance chairman, reported that he had conferred with the police department regarding a salary increase, and whenever a meeting is set with the department, Councilmen will be notified.

All new street lights ordered by the city have been installed Lombardozzi, street and light chairman, reported. He said additional lights will be one on Boyer Ave. and one on Lisbon St. between 10th and 11th Sts. Upon his recommendation the safety - service director was authorized to purchase two "no parking" signs for Anderson Ave. and to place a "Reserve Parking" sign in front of the Ed Parker residence on Anderson Ave.

Lombardozzi announced the street improvement program will be started early, and recommended anyone with suggestions or questions to contact his ward councilman.

City Solicitor William Bush was instructed to procure whatever papers necessary to grant the request of the Immaculate Conception Church for land on Riverside Ave. to use for parking. Consent would have to be obtained from residents and the Penn Central Railroad.

The safety - service director was given authority to order materials needed for use in the street improvement program. Approval was given first reading of a resolution accepting $1,831 paid by Roger D. Kennedy, executor of the estate of Rebecca M. Mooney, for perpetual care of her lot in Springhill Cemetery.

A report of the police department for 1968 showed 254 accidents, two fatalities, 110 persons jailed, 383 arrests, for a total of 404 arrests.

A request of Bill Craig to cut the curb on the west side of his store on 16th St. was approved. It will be done under the supervision of the safety - service director. The benediction was given by Rev. Roger Kennedy, pastor of the First United Methodist Church.

Browning, state attorney general.

The telegrams read:

"We understand your great interest in promoting fair and honest elections in the state of West Virginia. For this reason we request that you or a representative of your office attend with us the regularly scheduled meeting of the Hancock County Court Feb. 19 at 8 p.m. in the county Courthouse.

"Our purpose in attending this meeting is to protest the invalidation of over 300 honestly cast ballots in Precinct 32 of Butler District."

MRS. PORTER said she has served notice to the County Commissioners through their clerk George Konchar that the committee will attend tonight's session.

The first meeting of the committee was held Monday at Weirton Heights when officers were elected. "We will attempt to keep this issue built up and have monthly meetings, "Mrs. Porter pointed out.

She said the movement attracted another group with the same goals, and the two joined to form the present committee.

The committee feels that there was "no fraud involved and the ballots were honestly cast."

Mrs. Porter termed the committee a bipartisan one, noting that both Democrats and Republicans are members.

HANCOCK County Prosecutor Edward Zagula said he recommended that the Jan. 3 meeting not be publicized because the results coming out of the meeting were to be used by the Supreme Court in determining the issue and so constituted evidence in the matter. Zagula pointed out, "A court reporter was present who took every word down," and so he does not consider the meeting to have been at all secret.

"Everybody concerned was there," he continued. He said, however, that no prior notification to the public was given concerning the session.

He urged people to call their state representatives in an effort to have the laws amended. He termed the act currently in effect — the one which was the basis for the Supreme Court's decision — "a rotten law."

The circular, prepared by the committee is titled "Defend Your Right To Vote" and reads as follows:

"Here are some of the questions that have entered our minds about the recent election and recount for sheriff in Hancock County. Read them and see if you know WHY? If there is doubt in your mind, come to the meeting of the County Court. . .and make your protest along with us.

"WHY WAS A secret meeting held by the County Court Jan. 3 to examine the ballots in Precinct 32 without a court order:

"Why was it agreed not to discuss the date nor the particulars of the secret meeting?" (See excerpt below)

"Why was the state code violated by permitting the recounting of the ballots in Precinct 32 even though they were advised by County Clerk George Konchar that this action was illegal?

"Why if the County Commissioners gave Ralph Patrick the right to re - examine ballots in Precinct 32 do they deny this right to Louis Smoleski?

"Why is a person holding an office when he did not receive a majority of the votes honestly cast?

"Something is wrong when over 300 voters in Precinct 32 lose their votes through no fault of their own. This trivial mistake on the part of the poll workers in Precinct 32 not only took away the honestly cast vote of better than 300 voters in that precinct but took away the legally cast vote of every voter in every precinct in that county.

"We should never let this happen again in Hancock County. We have a right to have our vote counted and we have a right to have the candidate we elect by a majority vote serve in the office to which we elected him. We should let the County Court know the way we feel.

"How do we do this? By coming to the meeting of the County Court Feb. 19 and along with us express your interest by your appearance.

"If it is impossible for you to attend this meeting, take a few moments and call your County Commissioners.

The Commissioners' meeting tonight also will serve as the final night for residents to discuss their tax assessments with commissioners who will be sitting in the dual role of a board of equalization.

Submits Low Bid

CHICAGO (AP) — Carl's Plumbing and Heating, Marion, Ohio, submitted the apparent low bid of $46,380 to install air conditioning and make lighting improvements at the Post Office in Crestline, Ohio, the General Services Administration reported Tuesday.

Hearing Planned For Suspect, 49, In Arson Charge

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a preliminary hearing Tuesday morning for a Greene County (Pa.) man charged with arson in connection with a fire that broke out yesterday morning in a mattress at the Ceramic Hotel at E. 4th and Walnut Sts.

George Bradford Fox, 49, of Mt. Morris, Pa. identified as a transient by firemen, did not enter a plea to the charge signed by Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne. It alleges that he "willfully attempted to set fire to the Ceramic Hotel by burning a mattress in room 35, the property of Ray Diddle."

Questioned by the judge, Fox said he does not have money to employ an attorney. The judge said he will seek to have counsel appointed for the defendant by Common Pleas Court.

"All I have is $6 and I am $30,000 in debt," Fox told the court. He said he formerly was employed in Alliance.

Firemen used a ladder to take Fox off the roof of a nearby home about 8:45 yesterday morning after the fire broke out. Fox said he started the blaze, leaped out a window to the roof of a home and then went to another building's roof. He said he was trying to attract attention because "someone was after me."

4 Drivers Fined By Lisbon Judge

LISBON — Judge J. L. MacDonald of Columbiana County Southwest Court fined four drivers Tuesday:

Charles E. Anderson, Hammonsville RD, no operator's license, $50 and costs; James P. Anderson, Hammondsville RD, operating unsafe vehicle, $25 and costs; Loye Tinkey, Salineville RD, using registration plates belonging to another vehicle, $20 and costs, and Bobbie E. Wiggers, Salem RD, speeding, $15 and costs.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were Daniel T. Bane, Euclid, speeding, $20, and Thomas H. Richards, Hanoverton, and Gary D. Kaser, Salineville RD, both cited for parking on a highway, $15 each.

Car Stalled On Road Rammed By Another

Cars operated by residents of East Liverpool and Midland suffered damage estimated at $1,500 in a collision on Route 68 at 12:15 a. m. today.

Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said a car operated by Wilbert Short Jr. of 102 St. George St., East Liverpool, stalled on Route 68 approximately 150 feet east of the Pennsylvania state line. As he was attempting to start the vehicle, it was struck from the rear by a car operated by Jack Lee Lawrence, 30, of 21 D Midland Heights.

There were no injuries. No charges were filed.

Ex-Area Man Killed During Viet Fighting

Word has been received of the death of a former Chester resident during action in Vietnam.

Killed was John Pinney, 21, who had been serving in Vietnam for more than a year.

Mrs. Raymond C. Rogers of Louisiana Ave., Chester, a relative, said the body has been returned to San Francisco, with funeral services indefinite.

Pinney was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Pinney of China Lake, Calif., formerly of Chester. The mother is the former Gertrude Harmon of Newell. He was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Farrel Pinney of Phoenix, Ariz. also former Chester residents.

Pinney is survived by his wife, a lifelong California resident, and a son, about 2, residents of China Lake.

Bridge

ments on the Phase I draft report.

—:—

THE DRAFT contains seven chapters, including an introduction, and outlines such items as growth analysis, traffic studies, existing conditions, location analysis, estimated traffic revenue, preliminary design and project cost and preliminary project feasibility.

Brennan pointed to the location just upstream from the present Chester bridge as the position deemed most feasible by the preliminary study. He said that location is based on the most feasible bonding investment, but there are "a lot of other factors and the other two sites are in the ball park, too."

The consulting firm, based on its studies, sees the entire project as feasible, Bernnan said. He added the figures for construction outlined in the report are "basically for determining which location is most feasible and whether there is any justification for any bridge at all."

He said all the factors outlined in the study are subject to change, since a review currently is under way at the State Road Commission in Charleston. In addition, a copy of the study has been sent to the Ohio Highway Department asking for comments on the proposal.

OFFICIALS AT Columbus said the report was received last week, but that Tom Major, deputy director of planning and programming, was out of town then and so as yet has not seen the report nor has he reviewed the basic proposals.

Copies of the report have been sent to the Steubenville - Weirton Area Transportation Study committee and to Charles Taylor, secretary - treasurer of the Northern Hancock County Development Organization, who has been actively seeking a solution to the present limits posed on the existing structure. Taylor is sending a copy of the report to Atty. Francis Lang, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's highway committee.

Lang said he and Taylor will attend a meeting of the technical committee of SWATS Feb. 27 when the group will review the report.

Construction at all three locations would necessitate some relocation of existing structures, either in Chester or East Liverpool.

The fact that the span will require a toll probably comes as no surprise to area residents since former West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith nearly a year ago predicted that was the only way the new bridge could be financed.

2 Hospitalized In Area Accident

Two men were treated at City Hospital for injuries received in a traffic mishap early this morning on former Route 30.

Charles Taylor of Maple Dr. was northbound in a 1968 coach when he lost control while rounding a curve and struck a 1962 station wagon driven by Joe E. Kenney of 725 Cadmus St.

Taylor suffered a lacerated forehead and lip plus abrasions and contusions and is listed in satisfactory condition. Kenney is listed as fair with contusions of the chest and abrasions of the knees.

Taylor was cited for reckless driving.

Refuse Plan Delayed

Wellsville Council Sets New Look At Rate Hikes

Wellsville Council Tuesday agreed to a further study on increasing refuse collection rates after efforts to bring in an ordinance providing for increases failed at a meeting Tuesday night.

Councilmen Russell Keefer, Paul Todd and Robert Taggart supported the motion while Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi abstained from voting, saying he was not at a caucus meeting when the proposed new rates were suggested. Councilmen Jack Call and James B. Phillips, who is ill, were absent.

Prior to the vote, Todd, refuse committee chairman, reported that five Council members, Mayor William Daugherty and Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, attended the caucus meeting.

A rate boost for private homes from $4.50 to $6.50, non-city homes $5.40 to $8 and adjustment of commercial rates was arrived at to make up the difference of addiitonal mileage, labor and depreciation to the packer, he said. Due to the closing of Wellsville's dump by the state health department, the city has entered into a contract with East Liverpool to haul refuse to the Madison Township land-fill.

A recommendation by Councilman Glenn Mathess, member of the water and sewage committee, to order in legislation to increase the minimum water rates from $4 to $6 to meet a deficit and increased costs in the department also hit a snag.

He stated the figures were upon the caucus meeting.

After some discussion in which members disagreed with the recommendation, Council President Wayne Rose suggested another caucus to some agreement. No vote was taken.

A letter from Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara regarding water increase rates was read by Lombardozzi, acting clerk. O'Hara stated that during his term as city solicitor, he found the water department situation in a deplorable condition. He pointed out that the biggest problem lies in failure to raise rates in keeping with the cost of services. The department has actually operated in the red at least $10,000 a year since 1965, he claimed.

His letter further stated: "Also the method of collection of moneys due the department needs to be revised. It is a sad state of affairs to have to revert to collecting water bills through the county tax system. Actually you don't collect all that is due anyway.

"A 20 per cent increase in water rents should be put in force immediately, with minimum raised $1 a quarter. Also Council should set the wheels in motion to reorganize the department."

Wedding Trip Concluded, Couple Resides In Newell

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Goddard are residing in Newell following their marriage Feb. 8 at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

Fr. Joseph Fata, assistant pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was the former Linda Kay Geon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Geon of 208 W. 3rd St. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Pauline Cestaric of 347 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville. Mrs. James O'Reilly was organist and her husband soloist.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a street - length dress of white satin, fashioned with an empire bodice with white rose appliques, which also was carried out on the long pointed sleeves. Her veil of silk illusion was held in place by a Princess crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centered with red roses and red streamers.

Miss Brenda Sue Geon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a street - length dress of yellow chiffon over taffeta, which was accented by a bow of yellow chiffon at the neckline. She wore a matching yellow headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, centered with yellow roses and streamers of yellow and gold.

The bride's mother chose a royal blue suit with blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue print dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations and roses.

Ronald Geon, brother of the bride, served as best man. Donald Geon, another brother, was an usher.

FOLLOWING the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the immediate family and close friends.

For her honeymoon trip, the bride wore a tan suit, with matching coat and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and roses.

The newlyweds are graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride is employed with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and her husband with the Mullins Manufacturing Co. of Salem.

150 At 'Sweetheart Banquet' Hear Official From Bethany

Some 150 members of the First Church of Christ (Disciples) attended the third annual "Sweetheart Banquet" Tuesday night at the church.

Dr. Chester A. Sillars of Bethany College told the group, "You do not need to feel insecure — you need not worry. Be concerned about this world of ours, but know that you have a rock you can anchor to — it is God's Love."

Sillars, who is director of church relations at Bethany and who writes a weekly column, "A Chat with Chet," discussed love, "both self-love and selfless love."

"Love is right in our good book," he said. "Why leave it to the misguided hippies to talk about love when this is the message of time?

"The kind of love that Jesus taught is selfless love. This kind of love endures. Don't believe it because I am saying it, but because it is true. Love is the most wonderful thing we have in this world."

Kenneth Prince served as toastmaster and led the group singing. The Rev. E. C. Traylor offered invocation.

John Calhoun of Wellsville sang several selections. He was accompanied by Janet Stover.

Glenn W. Hall offered benediction.

The lunch was served by members of the Longs Run Presbyterian Church.

Each of the "sweethearts" present received a red rose. These and the roses decorating the tables were supplied by Robert Malkin.

Committee members for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Noah Hilditch, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Prince.

Wedding Trip Concluded, Couple Resides In Newell

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Goddard are residing in Newell following their marriage Feb. 8 at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

Fr. Joseph Fata, assistant pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was the former Linda Kay Geon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Geon of 208 W. 3rd St. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Pauline Cestaric of 347 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville. Mrs. James O'Reilly was organist and her husband soloist.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a street - length dress of white satin, fashioned with an empire bodice with white rose appliques, which also was carried out on the long pointed sleeves. Her veil of silk illusion was held in place by a Princess crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centered with red roses and red streamers.

Miss Brenda Sue Geon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a street - length dress of yellow chiffon over taffeta, which was accented by a bow of yellow chiffon at the neckline. She wore a matching yellow headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, centered with yellow roses and streamers of yellow and gold.

The bride's mother chose a royal blue suit with blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue print dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations and roses.

Ronald Geon, brother of the bride, served as best man. Donald Geon, another brother, was an usher.

FOLLOWING the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the immediate family and close friends.

For her honeymoon trip, the bride wore a tan suit, with matching coat and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and roses.

The newlyweds are graduates of East Liverpool High School. The bride is employed with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and her husband with the Mullins Manufacturing Co. of Salem.

150 At 'Sweetheart Banquet' Hear Official From Bethany

Some 150 members of the First Church of Christ (Disciples) attended the third annual "Sweetheart Banquet" Tuesday night at the church.

Dr. Chester A. Sillars of Bethany College told the group, "You do not need to feel insecure — you need not worry. Be concerned about this world of ours, but know that you have a rock you can anchor to — it is God's Love."

Sillars, who is director of church relations at Bethany and who writes a weekly column, "A Chat with Chet," discussed love, "both self-love and selfless love."

"Love is right in our good book," he said. "Why leave it to the misguided hippies to talk about love when this is the message of time?

"The kind of love that Jesus taught is selfless love. This kind of love endures. Don't believe it because I am saying it, but because it is true. Love is the most wonderful thing we have in this world."

Kenneth Prince served as toastmaster and led the group singing. The Rev. E. C. Traylor offered invocation.

John Calhoun of Wellsville sang several selections. He was accompanied by Janet Stover.

Glenn W. Hall offered benediction.

The lunch was served by members of the Longs Run Presbyterian Church.

Each of the "sweethearts" present received a red rose. These and the roses decorating the tables were supplied by Robert Malkin.

Committee members for the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Noah Hilditch, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Prince.

English Discusses Possibilities

Chester Kiwanians Hear Pottery Festival Plans

The importance of tourism to the tri-state area and the coming Pottery Festival were discussed by H. Jud English of the Columbiana County Motor Club during Tuesday night's meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club.

English outlined various places in the area which tourists can visit and reviewed the success of last year's festival. He discussed the promotion of the entire area for the next such project.

He said all area businesses benefit to a degree from the festival and should be encouraged to participate on an active basis. With all joining in, he pointed out, it could become an even greater success.

With highways, bridges and streets decorated, he added, and with merchants decorating their stores, the entire tri-state area would take on the air of a fiesta and present a greater program to visitors coming to the area.

The potter industry is of interest to all cities in the area, he noted, and as such deserves participation and promotion by them. He added that a great deal of cooperation and hard work is necessary to insure success.

Gene Boyce was program chairman.

Alvin Fineman thanked all area industries and businesses which are participating in the sale of gum through the club's gum ball machines. Proceeds from the venture will be used for the community youth fund.

Emanuel Volino was inducted into the club by Fineman. He is owner of the Chester Car Wash and the Chester Laundromat and Dry Cleaning Co.

Two letters were received from state officials thanking the club for its interest in the 10-year development plan for Tomlinson Run State Park.

The club sent the letters approving of the project and offered congratulations on the improvements which would provide a year-round recreational facility for the area. Members said there is no reason why the park cannot be developed into an area similar to a resort.

Paul Afflerbach, assistant to the president of the National Church Supply Co., was a guest of Fineman. Afflerbach, a newcomer to the community, lives in Park Meadows near Tomlinson Run Park. Formerly he resided in the Pennsylvania Dutch area.

Twenty-five attended. Robert Cooley gave the invocation. Ed Maloney of the East Liverpool club was a guest. Larry Wilkinson was the Key Club guest from Oak Glen High School. Richard Pillo is president.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 6:10 p. m.

English Discusses Possibilities

Chester Kiwanians Hear Pottery Festival Plans

The importance of tourism to the tri-state area and the coming Pottery Festival were discussed by H. Jud English of the Columbiana County Motor Club during Tuesday night's meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club.

English outlined various places in the area which tourists can visit and reviewed the success of last year's festival. He discussed the promotion of the entire area for the next such project.

He said all area businesses benefit to a degree from the festival and should be encouraged to participate on an active basis. With all joining in, he pointed out, it could become an even greater success.

With highways, bridges and streets decorated, he added, and with merchants decorating their stores, the entire tri-state area would take on the air of a fiesta and present a greater program to visitors coming to the area.

The potter industry is of interest to all cities in the area, he noted, and as such deserves participation and promotion by them. He added that a great deal of cooperation and hard work is necessary to insure success.

Gene Boyce was program chairman.

Alvin Fineman thanked all area industries and businesses which are participating in the sale of gum through the club's gum ball machines. Proceeds from the venture will be used for the community youth fund.

Emanuel Volino was inducted into the club by Fineman. He is owner of the Chester Car Wash and the Chester Laundromat and Dry Cleaning Co.

Two letters were received from state officials thanking the club for its interest in the 10-year development plan for Tomlinson Run State Park.

The club sent the letters approving of the project and offered congratulations on the improvements which would provide a year-round recreational facility for the area. Members said there is no reason why the park cannot be developed into an area similar to a resort.

Paul Afflerbach, assistant to the president of the National Church Supply Co., was a guest of Fineman. Afflerbach, a newcomer to the community, lives in Park Meadows near Tomlinson Run Park. Formerly he resided in the Pennsylvania Dutch area.

Twenty-five attended. Robert Cooley gave the invocation. Ed Maloney of the East Liverpool club was a guest. Larry Wilkinson was the Key Club guest from Oak Glen High School. Richard Pillo is president.

The next meeting will be Tuesday at 6:10 p.m.

195 At Seminar On Horse Care

195 attended the third in a series of seminars on horse care and nutrition Tuesday night at St. Patrick's school auditorium.

The program included a U. S. Polo Association film shown by the Beaver Valley Polo Club and talks by representatives of horse conditioner concerns — Herb Jankovich of Carrolltown, Pa., Terry Spicer of Massillon and Don Kelley of Sebring.

They said Ohio has approximately 1,000,000 of the 7,800,000 horses in the United States.

John Simonds of Leetonia RD, sponsor, said the next meeting will be a panel discussion featuring equine practitioners, professional trainers and blacksmiths. The date will be announced.

Same Effort As Space Program

Senator Urges U.S. Fight To Erase Hunger, Slums

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Southern senator who admits once covering up a hunger problem in his state says the federal government should put the same effort into ending malnutrition that it expended sending men to the moon.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., Tuesday told a Senate committee investigating malnutrition that just as the United States 10 years ago set out to conquer space, the government "should set as a national goal the elimination of hunger and slum conditions in America."

Last April, a group organized by the Citizens' Crusade Against Poverty reported that 16 of South Carolina's 46 counties were "hunger counties" with serious nutrition problems.

Hollings admitted to the select committee on nutrition and human rights that as governor from 1959 to 1963 he and other South Carolina officials deliberately covered up the state's problem in an effort to boost its industrial development.

"We didn't want the vice president of the plant in New York to know the burdens" of locating in South Carolina, he said. "We told him only of the opportunities. You don't catch industry with worms—maybe fish, but not industry."

Now, he said, "We should be ashamed of this hunger. I know as a public official I am late to this problem." But "government is the art of the feasible and, financially, it is impossible for the state to solve this problem."

The federal government "must cut through the bottlenecks and coordinate so that food reaches the hungry rather than giving them scientific studies as to why we think they may be hungry," he said. "The federal red-tape worm should be exterminated."

Noting that 10 years ago the federal government set out to conquer space and build a nationwide highway system, Hollings said the end of hunger and slums should be a new national priority for the next decade.

When Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., tried to pin the blame for failure of food programs on local officials, Hollings responded: "Pin it there. There's still no food."

"We've got to get more food and this committee can do it," he declared. "We've got to bring pressure at every level." But he said the state could not solve the problems alone.

Hollings' fellow Senator, Republican Strom Thurmond, apparently has modified his earlier opposition to the investigation.

"I look forward to hearing the views of those who have made an in-depth study of these problems," he said in a statement in Tuesday's Congressional Record. "The main concern should be to find the most effective way to resolve these needs."

Probation Requested Following Guilty Plea

LISBON — Daniel A. Delp, 22, of Salem RD 1, who pleaded not guilty last month to two Salem burglaries, requested probation Monday in Common Pleas Court after pleading guilty to a break-in Dec. 13 at Chappell & Zimmerman, Inc.

The state dismissed the other indictment charging him with a burglary the same night at the Peoples Lumber Co. Judge Joel H. Sharp ordered a presentence investigation and report.

Legion's State Commander

Munson Will Be Speaker At Meeting Of Post 374

Roger Munson of Euclid, state commander of the American Legion in Ohio, will be guest speaker during the annual birthday dinner of Post 374 Saturday at 6:30.

James Cregar, past 10th District commander, will be master of ceremonies.

Munson, a Navy veteran of World War II, joined the Legion in 1946 and served as commander of Cleveland Heights Post 104 for three years.

He has held all top offices in the 13th District, which includes Cuyahoga County, and has been a member of many state and national committees.

He is an 18-year member of the 40 and 8, the Legion's fun organization.

Munson attended Baldwin-Wallace College, Illinois Institute of Technology and was graduated in 1948 from Case Institute of Technology at Cleveland with a bachelor degree in electrical engineering.

He is the owner and manager of R. A. Munson & Associates, a Cleveland area manufacturers' representative and builders' supply firm.

Munson has served four years as chairman of the First Covenant Church in Cleveland, is a past president of the Cleveland Heights Joint Veterans Council and a former chairman of the Cleveland Heights Firemen's Pension Fund.

His wife Jane was 1965-66 president of the 13th district Legion Auxiliary.

Petitions Available For Bids To Set Up Community Courts

HARRISBURG (AP) — Blank petitions were available at the Pennsylvania Elections Bureau today for individuals or groups seeking establishment of community courts in their particular judicial districts.

The bureau hastily printed a limited number of petitions Tuesday despite the failure of the House to act on a Senate-approved bill prescribing the language in which the community court question should appear on the ballot.

Since the same language should appear on the petitions, the bureau had waited anxiously on the House to act, but the chamber's Democratic leadership announced Monday it had no intention of moving the bill this week because of "defects."

Because Tuesday was the first day for circulating petitions for the May 20 primary, the bureau decided to go ahead and print the petitions in the form prescribed by the proposed legislation. Some 29,000 blank petitions were prepared.

New provisions in the state constitution authorized creation of community courts to replace justices of the peace in any of the 59 judicial districts where a majority of the voters grant their approval.

In order for the question to get on the ballot, however, signatures must be obtained equal to at least 5 per cent of the highest number of total votes cast for all candidates running for a single office last election.

C. Russell Welsh Jr., deputy secretary of the commonwealth in charge of elections, said community court proponents could have their own petitions printed, but that they should follow generally the form prescribed by the bureau.

The bureau used the standard nominating petition form by judicial candidates, pasting a new heading over the top. The heading states the purpose of the petition and the probable language in which the question would appear on the ballot.

How Can I?

Q.—Please suggest a good, easily - prepared luncheon dish.

A.—Three hard or soft rolls can be put to use as the basis for this. Scoop out the center crumbs after splitting the rolls, and save for any crumbling use. Fill the shells with any mixture of leftover meat or fish mixed with a little chopped celery and real mayonnaise. Put into a 350-degree oven until piping hot and lightly toasted—from 25 to 30 minutes.

Q.—How can I remove beer stains from clothing?

A.—These are usually as easy to remove as they are to acquire, because beer is soluble in water. So, ordinary laundering will do the trick for washable fabrics, and sponging with a cloth dipped in soapy water for unwashables. If the stain is old, add a little ammonia to the wash water.

Q. — How can I remove blood from a cushion or other hard-to-clean object?

A. — Cover immediately with a paste of cornstarch and water, rubbing it on, then putting the cushion in the sun to dry. The sun draws the blood out into the cornstarch. Brush of the dry cornstarch, and if the spot is not completely gone, repeat the routine.

U.S. To Stay Out Of Red, Mayo Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal government will stay out of the red this year and next despite creeping costs and a shrinking surplus, according to Budget Director Robert P. Mayo.

Mayo testified Tuesday before the joint Senate-House Economic Committee, which continued its hearings today with testimony from Treasury Secretary David Kennedy.

Mayo told the committee that government outlays—especially the cost of interest on the federal debt—apparently will exceed the budget estimates made by former President Johnson for both fiscal 1969 and 1970.

This prompted speculation that the slender $2.4 billion surplus bequeathed by Johnson might skid into a deficit before the 1969 fiscal year ends June 30. Mayo told a reporter he did not intend to give such an impression.

"I think we'll be able to preserve a surplus, though not necessarily a very robust one," he said.

A deficit is always possible he conceded, "but I do not expect it." He said the small surplus "could be either doubled or wiped out if the receipts estimate were off by as little as 1½ per cent." A slightly larger error could cancel out the $3.4 billion 1970 surplus as well, but Mayo indicated he expects to stay in black ink.

So far the committee, though dominated by Democrats, has treated the Nixon men gently, even cordially. There have been critical comments, however, on the number of former bankers among Nixon's appointees to economic policymaking positions.

Kennedy is the former board chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and several of his aides were banking officials.

During the Battle of Britain, which lasted between July 10 and Oct. 10, 1940, and may have changed the course of the war, the Germans lost 1,733 aircraft and the British 915.

This prompted speculation that the slender $2.4 billion surplus bequeathed by Johnson might skid into a deficit before the 1969 fiscal year ends June 30. Mayo told a reporter he did not intend to give such an impression.

"I think we'll be able to preserve a surplus, though not necessarily a very robust one," he said.

A deficit is always possible he conceded, "but I do not expect it." He said the small surplus "could be either doubled or wiped out if the receipts estimate were off by as little as 1½ per cent." A slightly larger error could cancel out the $3.4 billion 1970 surplus as well, but Mayo indicated he expects to stay in black ink.

So far the committee, though dominated by Democrats, has treated the Nixon men gently, even cordially. There have been critical comments, however, on the number of former bankers among Nixon's appointees to economic policymaking positions.

Kennedy is the former board chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and several of his aides were banking officials.

During the Battle of Britain, which lasted between July 10 and Oct. 10, 1940, and may have changed the course of the war, the Germans lost 1,733 aircraft and the British 915.

Potato Growers To Hold Institute

SALEM — Potato growers of Columbiana and Mahoning counties will hold their annual institute from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Feb. 26 in the Memorial Building, 785 E. State St.

Jon McMaster of Columbiana, chairman of the Columbiana - Mahoning board of directors, said invitations also are being sent to growers in Portage, Stark and Wayne counties.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served from 9:30 until the program begins at 10.

Growers planning to have luncheon at the Memorial Building must make reservations by Feb. 21 by calling the county cooperative extension service office in Lisbon.

Insult To Injury

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP) — A nighttime burglary of Koford's Jewelry on Main Street resulted in the theft of only one item from the display. Owner Ed Koford reported an antique wedding band valued at about $50 was taken. But the window the thief broke to enter the case cost him more than $100 to replace.

On The TV Beat

By Cecil Smith

The Former Years Of Maxwell Smart

The house is on a mountaintop overlooking Beverly Hills. The study is richly made, dark paneling, black leather, book-lined walls. On one wall hangs a painting of a clown — A sad clown, red, button nose and painted cheeks. He's holding one floopy shoe and talking into it as a telephone.

Cecil Smith

Sometimes Don Adams perched below that picture seems eons removed from the clown. Compact, intense, very serious, he never thinks of himself as a funny man, but as an actor who does comedy.

-:-

HE HAS almost a fan's admiration for what he believes are naturally funny men — the clowns: Gleason, Skelton, Shecky Greene, Don Rickles. He's their devoted audience.

Rickles destroys him. When he taped the edition of the "Music Hall" with Rickles that takes the air tonight on NBC there were endless retakes because Adams, broken up with laughter, blew the scene.

"There's a sequence," said Don, "in which Rickles gets a custard pie in the face that killed me. I'd begin to laugh and forget the line. They'd have to wipe the pie off Don, fix the makeup and begin again. Don would scream at me: 'I'll kill you, dummy I'll beat your brains out-'

"DON WAS ALWAYS like this. I met him 20 years ago when I was playing a strip joint in Washington. There were four of these joints in a row — I was in one, Rickles was in the next, Dick Shawn was in the third and Steve Lawrence, who was like 16, was in the fourth.

"These were the roughest kinds of places, filled with men who came to see the strippers, very tough guys. They weren't interested in the comedians. We were really there to introduce the girls — 'And now, folks, Blue Flame Frisco!'

"But Rickles was doing his insulting act then. He'd scream, 'Hello, dummy!' at these tough guys. 'You must have been to the act, you're sweating like a horse!'

"I thought they'd kill him. I used to go over after my act and watch him. But what Rickles has is a basic honesty. People recognize it and they laugh. But I used to think any night now they'll kill him.

"DON'S a strange guy. On, he's loud and raucous, a tiger. Off, he's a pussycat. One of the quietest, gentlest people I know. That's the mistake they made with his TV series. Not to show the quiet side of Don."

Adams eagerly explores the kind of series he would make with Rickles. It is no secret that where he wants to go is backstage in show business. He wants to write, direct, produce.

He has one more year of Maxwell Smart, which wraps up the five-year series. There's great pressure on him to continue performing, possibility headlining a variety show after "Get Smart" ends.

"The question is what way do you go?" said Don. "If you do three more years of performing, you're in a much better financial shape to do what you want. But can you afford those three years?"

DON WANTS to write, to create a theatrical work from scratch. He wrote a long sequence for tonight's how, a spoof on scenes from famous movies from the Chaplin days through "Gunga Din" and "Gone With the Wind," which he does with Rickles and Kay Ballard with Joseph Cotten narrating.

As he talks of his future plans, the gap between the clown on the wall and the man below widens to chasmic proportions. His blonde wife, Dorothy, once a June Taylor dancer, brings coffee and Don asks for goodies — "some of that applesauce cake." She tells him he ate it for breakfast.

Don pauses, then biting off the words with Maxwell Smart precision, he says: "The whole cake?" The gap narrows.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I prevent window sashes from sticking after being painted?

A.—Newly painted sashes should be run up and down several times a day for a few days. When this is not done, any sash is liable to stick to a certain extent.

Q. — How can I mend a cracked laundry tub?

A. — Procure waterproof paste of glue, and completely coat a piece of cotton cord with this, then pack this cotton cord tightly into the crack in your tub with a knife. Usually makes a good seal.

DON WANTS to write, to create a theatrical work from scratch. He wrote a long sequence for tonight's how, a spoof on scenes from famous movies from the Chaplin days through "Gunga Din" and "Gone With the Wind," which he does with Rickles and Kay Ballard with Joseph Cotten narrating.

As he talks of his future plans, the gap between the clown on the wall and the man below widens to chasmic proportions. His blonde wife, Dorothy, once a June Taylor dancer, brings coffee and Don asks for goodies — "some of that applesauce cake." She tells him he ate it for breakfast.

Don pauses, then biting off the words with Maxwell Smart precision, he says: "The whole cake?" The gap narrows.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I prevent window sashes from sticking after being painted?

A.—Newly painted sashes should be run up and down several times a day for a few days. When this is not done, any sash is liable to stick to a certain extent.

Q. — How can I mend a cracked laundry tub?

A. — Procure waterproof paste of glue, and completely coat a piece of cotton cord with this, then pack this cotton cord tightly into the crack in your tub with a knife. Usually makes a good seal.

WHAT IS THE CAUSE OF BOILS?

Many people think that boils are caused by over-rich blood, or possibly a virus from a cold. Boils usually are a local infection started by the bacteria found on the skin. The staphylococcus or "staph" germ is considered the culprit.

The germs work their way into or through the skin. They form a colony and multiply rapidly. The bloodstream rushes white corpuscles to the spot to kill the invading germs. A boil must be kept covered, for if these germs leak out, more boils may form on your skin or the skin of someone who touches you. A physician usually can relieve a boil by prescribing an antibiotic treatment.

Introduced In Ohio Senate

Bill Asks Hike In Sales Tax Fund Going To Cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to increase the amount of sales tax revenue going into the local government fund has been introduced in the Ohio Senate.

The bill, whose main sponsor is Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati also would reform the way the money is distributed to counties, municipalities and townships.

Maloney, chairman of the interim committee on county budget commissions which came up with the proposed legislation, insisted that the legislature must establish basic guidelines for its distribution if more money is put in the fund.

In committee meetings he often referred to the distribution procedure as "nothing more tha a grab bag by local governments."

The bill, which was introduced Tuesday, would tie the amount of state sales tax revenue in the local government fund to annual increases in the amount collected.

Under the bill, the fund would continue to receive a minimum annual state contribution of $24 million in sales tax revenue. It provides that future state contributions also would include 5 per cent of annual increases in state sales tax revenue figured from the base year of 1968.

Since it is estimated that the sales tax revenue in fiscal 1969 will range from $575 to $600 million, the revenue going into the local government fund would increase about $4.7 to $5.6 million.

The local government fund, which is divided among counties, municipalities and townships by county budget commissions, contained about $71 million in 1968.

In addition to sales tax revenue, the fund contained about $47 million from the state collected in tangible personal property taxes.

The House passed 87-8 a bill to merge Cleveland Marshall Law School into Cleveland State University.

Although the bill was adopted, questions concerning how much the merger would cost the state went unanswered.

Rep. Marck C. Schinnerer, R-49 Lakewood, House Education Committee chairman, estimated that it would cost $1.5 million over a two-year period.

Rep. Robert Netzley, R - 7 Laura, predicted it would cost much more. He said it would cost $400 million over the next two years if a state subsidy of $4,800 is granted per student.

Gov. Rhodes, GOP Leaders Praise Bliss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes and Republican party leaders had words of praise Tuesday for Ray C. Bliss of Akron, who has resigned as GOP National Chairman.

Bliss was hailed as having rebuilt the GOP during the last four years and engineering the party's resurgence.

Rhodes said, "He's done an outstanding job, I was surprised to see him resign."

News of Bliss' resignation, effective in mid-April "will be received with deep regret by all Ohio Republicans," John S. Andrews, state chairman, said.

President Richard M. Nixon replied to Bliss' letter of resignation with a "salute for a job well done." The GOP leader's decision was announced at the White House.

Ohio Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Piqua, said he heard Tuesday afternoon that Bliss had resigned and didn't want to comment until he knew the circumstances.

Bliss' move was anticipated. From the outset of the Nixon administration there were rumors the President had made another choice for chairman.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess said Bliss led the resurgence of the GOP and "the Republican Party enjoyed the unique situation of having a real pro as its leader."

Bliss was lauded by Speaker pro tem Charles E. Fry R-9 Springfield, "I certainly hope that his successor has the track record and practical experience Ray Bliss has shown on the national level."

Andrews credited Bliss with introducing "new and thoroughly professional concepts to the national committee," which may have, "a lasting influence on the national party organization.

"Mr. Bliss has done a magnificent job over the last four years in rebuilding the Republican party nationally, just as in earlier years he led the Ohio Republican Party to a position of power and great prestige," Andrews said.

Desert Locust Threat Feared By Tanzania

DAR ES SALAAM (AP) — Tanzanian Agricultural experts are bracing their locust - control organization for an "extremely potential" threat from desert swarms now in Ethiopia and Sudan.

Derek Bryceson, the agriculture minister, said a few locusts had been found in northern Tanzania recently, but they were not the feared desert type.

But the threat to Tanzania's northern grain fields in great, he added, and locust - control units have been alerted to fight off the first sign of an invasion through Kenya or Uganda.

Dragnet Yields Big Catch During Festival

NEW DELHI (AP) — A police dragnet on the festival of Diwali yielded a heavy catch—gamblers, pickpockets and drunks.

But the heaviest catch was a stray 80-year-old elephant.

Police armed themselves with automatic weapons to round up the romping beast but found no need for them.

The jumbo followed them placidly to the station, where his owners reclaimed him.

Introduced In Ohio Senate

Bill Asks Hike In Sales Tax Fund Going To Cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to increase the amount of sales tax revenue going into the local government fund has been introduced in the Ohio Senate.

The bill, whose main sponsor is Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati also would reform the way the money is distributed to counties, municipalities and townships.

Maloney, chairman of the interim committee on county budget commissions which came up with the proposed legislation, insisted that the legislature must establish basic guidelines for its distribution if more money is put in the fund.

In committee meetings he often referred to the distribution procedure as "nothing more tha a grab bag by local governments."

The bill, which was introduced Tuesday, would tie the amount of state sales tax revenue in the local government fund to annual increases in the amount collected.

Under the bill, the fund would continue to receive a minimum annual state contribution of $24 million in sales tax revenue. It provides that future state contributions also would include 5 per cent of annual increases in state sales tax revenue figured from the base year of 1968.

Since it is estimated that the sales tax revenue in fiscal 1969 will range from $575 to $600 million, the revenue going into the local government fund would increase about $4.7 to $5.6 million.

The local government fund, which is divided among counties, municipalities and townships by county budget commissions, contained about $71 million in 1968.

Oak Glen Comeback Falls Short, Weirton Wins 67-59

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

We had intended to comment no further on the unfortunate incident at the Salem-East Liverpool basketball game last week, but our counterpart at the Salem News, Mark Miller, has forced us into it.

Miller says he was at the game. From reading his account of the affair, that is hard to believe. The story, which was not bylined, said very little about the game, and concentrated on the fight. In addition, the story editorialized quite a bit, and called the Potters' win "tarnished". Why East Liverpool's win should be tarnished because Salem started the fight is not quite clear. Miller, who is a graduate of Salem High, apparently let his enthusiasm cloud his better judgment.

THE STORY mentions that a Salem cheerleader was injured. It doesn't say that the cheerleaders were where that had no business to be - - under the basket - - and that the injury occurred when Rick Steffen of the Potters, who was trying to stay away from the fight, was pushed by a Salem player, knocking the cheerleader against the wall.

The story mentions the disparity in the number of fouls called. It doesn't mention that Salem, having fallen behind, was forced to foul in the final period to get the ball.

The story says that Jerry Christian was allowed to play most of the game with four fouls. There is no rule that prohibits this; it's the fifth foul that disqualifies a player.

But the thing in the story that most upset the Potter players and coaches was the item that George Spack, the Quakers' fine guard, was double-teamed. He may have thought he was double-teamed, and he was picked up by different people in the Potter's switching man-to-man defense, but he was never guarded by more than one person at a time.

The story didn't mention that Salem coach John Cabas hit Potter player John Johnson, nor that Tom Fisher of the Quakers came off the bench to join the fight.

IN A COLUMN later in the week (which is where the opinions should be expressed), Miller denies that Larry Hrvatin of the Quakers started the fight. And accuses East Liverpool of ganging up on him. We contend Hrvatin started the incident by fouling Christian and then shoving Dan Cunningham on his broken nose, certainly a very unsportsmanlike act. It will be admitted that Christian threw the first punch, but Hrvatin, 6-3, against Cunningham, 5-10, was not too equal a fight.

In trying to get a neutral opinion on the incident, we talked to Evan Reese of Martins Ferry, one of the referees for the game. Reese was under the basket at the time of the disturbance, and has this version: "Salem's 43 (Hrvatin) fouled Christian as he was attempting to shoot, and their arms became entangled. I called the foul, but just at that time, another East Liverpool player, trying for the rebound, crashed into a Salem player, and they both went to the floor. Before I could get them separated everybody had gotten into the act. It was just one of those things that happens when there is tension in a ball game. I couldn't say which team would be at fault. I talked to the commissioner (of officials) and I told him it wasn't a big deal."

Miller hints that Salem might drop East Liverpool from its schedule next year because of the poor sportsmanship of the Potters. Salem and coach John Cabas hardly have room to talk, and possibly the Potters could find a more sportsmanlike opponent for their schedule.

Tim Crago's 24 Pace Late Rally

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

A fantastic Oak Glen rally was not enough to overcome a horrible start and the Golden Bears fell 67-59 to Weirton on the Red Riders' floor last night.

Led by Tim Crago, who got 22 of his 24 points in the second half, the Golden Bears came from 48-22 early in the third period to 55-51 with about five minutes to go in the game, but then lost their momentum and Weirton hung on to win.

A weird play in which Tom McGeehan of Oak Glen scored a basket for Weirton hurt the visitors. They had scored 8 points in a row to narrow the gap to 48-30 when a jump ball at the Weirton end went to McGeehan, who quickly laid the ball up and in Weirton scored another basket to widen the margin to 52-30, and the incident seemed of little importance at the time. But with the count 55-34, the Bears reeled off 17 points in a row, as Weirton didn't score from about the middle of the third period until 4:35 remained in the game.

Crago made all seven Oak Glen baskets in the final period, but Jim Carnes, who scored 14 points, lost the touch and missed six shots. It was 63-59 with 40 seconds to go when Weirton got the last two baskets to sew up the game. Terry Strong, who led the Riders with 18 points, got 6 in the final period. Nick Griener had 16 and Ron Smith 12.

In the first half the visitors could do nothing right, and Weiton streaked to a 21-4 first period margin and widened it 23-4 and 36-12, ending the half up 44-20. During the first half Weirton controlled the boards 30-23 and forced 14 turnovers while committing four. As a result they got 43 shots, making 18, while Oak Glen took only 20, making six. The Bears were also hurt by poor foul shooting, making 8 of 17 the first half and 15 of 31 for the game.

In the second half, with Larry Manypenny, McGeehan and Crago leading the way, the forces of Jack McDevitt controlled the boards 39-23, ending up with a 62-53 overall margin. Manypenny grabbed 17, Crago 11 and McGeehan 10. McGeehan, trying to make up for his misplay, also had numerous steals, as the Bears forced 10 turnovers while committing nine after intermission. Weirton still ended well ahead in this department, 23-14. Strong had 14 rebounds and Greiner 12.

Weirton hit 37 per cent and Oak Glen 35 per cent, and the Raiders got off 14 more shots. Greiner was hitting from all angles, especially in the first half, when he scored 12 points. Strong grabbed numerous offensive rebounds and got most of his scores from close to the basket.

Oak Glen is now 5-13, Weirton 11-7.

Oak Glen did take the reserve game, 65-63. Joe Algozino scored 22 and Bill Ferguson 19 as the forces of Alan Hoover raised their record to 9-8. Weirton is 7-9. Wally Phillips, Andy Guz, and Ken Webb each had 13 for the losers, with Charles Garrison adding 10. Weirton controlled the boards 55-46 as Webb had 13 and Garrison 10. Algozino had 16 and Ferguson 10 for the visitors. Weirton also forced 19 turnovers while committing 11, but good shooting saved Oak Glen. The Bears hit 42 per cent to 31 per cent by the Riders.

Oak Glen trailed virtually the whole first half, but finally caught up in the third period and the game was deadlocked at 46 entering the final stanza. With George Whittaker, who had entered the game as a sub, leading the way with six points, Oak Glen took a 56-50 lead with 3:30 to go. But Weirton kept stealing the ball and tied the game at 56 with 2:10 left. Algozino made a drive and John Everly two fouls, but helped by a technical foul on Hoover. Weirton came back to 60-59 and went ahead on a steal and layup by Garrison with 40 seconds left.

Oak Glen lost the ball again, but Everly stole the ball and scored, putting the Bears ahead for good with 20 seconds to go. Garrison missed a foul with 14 seconds left and Algozino rebounded. Whittaker was fouled to score for Weirton with three seconds left to make it 14-13. Ferguson was immediately fouled and made one, but missed the second, and Weirton had a chance for a desperation shot that missed.

Milwaukee Gets Rights To Alcindor

By The Associated Press

Lew Alcindor, the 7-foot-2 All-American of UCLA's national collegiate basketball champions, has been drafted by the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association and the Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association.

The selections were made in secret telephone drafts last Saturday by the ABA and a month ago by the NBA, it was revealed Tuesday night.

The ABA disclosures were made by the Oakland, Calif., Tribune and the St. Paul, Minn., Pioneer Press. Lee Meade, public relations director of the ABA, told of Milwaukee getting Alcindor in the NBA draft.

There was no official confirmation by either the ABA or the NBA, which are expected to go as high as a million dollars in the bidding for Alcindor, a former New York City schoolboy star.

"The ABA will not release anything on the draft until after the draft is held," Meade said. He added no date has been set for the draft.

"No comment," was all Arthur Brown, owner of the New York Nets, would say when asked if the Nets had landed the rights to Alcindor.

Bob Fowler, basketball writer for the St. Paul Pioneer Press, said the ABA had held two rounds in its secret draft and he obtained the complete selections from a "qualified source."

Frank Crosetti, Sal Maglie and Ron Plaza will coach the Seattle Pilots under Manager Joe Schultz next season. The Pilots and the Kansas City Royals are the two American League expansion teams.

John Petchel Scores 41, Western Routs South Side

INDUSTRY — Records toppled as Western Beaver crushed South Side 109-50 here Tuesday night.

The 109 points was a new school record for the Golden Beavers, and John Petchel scored a school record 41 points. In addition, Western scored 38 points in the final period for another school mark.

Petchel held the previous school record of 33, set two years ago, when he was a sophomore. He came within one point of tying the floor mark of 42, held by Sim Hill of Midland.

The previous team record was 101 ,set against Crafton last year. Chuck Kelker scored the 100th point last night, as he had done against Crafton. John Begg got the bucket that set the new mark.

Kelker backed Petchel's effort with 19 points, Chuck Barrickman had 12 and Barry Dawson 10. Wayne Searight had 11 and Chuck Gillespie 10 for tht hapless Rams.

Western Beaver is now 7-12 overall and 4-5 in Section 17. South Side is 3-16 overall and 1-8 in league play.

Western hit 57 per cent to 26 per cent for the losers. The winners also held a 57-49 rebounding edge, as Petchel grabbed 16.

The home team also won the JV game, 46-39, as Bill Coble had 20 for the winners and Larry Anderson 10 for the losers. South Side led most of the game before Western rallied to win.

Oak Glen Comeback Falls Short, Weirton Wins 67-59

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

We had intended to comment no further on the unfortunate incident at the Salem-East Liverpool basketball game last week, but our counterpart at the Salem News, Mark Miller, has forced us into it.

Miller says he was at the game. From reading his account of the affair, that is hard to believe. The story, which was not bylined, said very little about the game, and concentrated on the fight. In addition, the story editorialized quite a bit, and called the Potters' win "tarnished". Why East Liverpool's win should be tarnished because Salem started the fight is not quite clear. Miller, who is a graduate of Salem High, apparently let his enthusiasm cloud his better judgment.

THE STORY mentions that a Salem cheerleader was injured. It doesn't say that the cheerleaders were where that had no business to be - - under the basket - - and that the injury occurred when Rick Steffen of the Potters, who was trying to stay away from the fight, was pushed by a Salem player, knocking the cheerleader against the wall.

The story mentions the disparity in the number of fouls called. It doesn't mention that Salem, having fallen behind, was forced to foul in the final period to get the ball.

The story says that Jerry Christian was allowed to play most of the game with four fouls. There is no rule that prohibits this; it's the fifth foul that disqualifies a player.

But the thing in the story that most upset the Potter players and coaches was the item that George Spack, the Quakers' fine guard, was double-teamed. He may have thought he was double-teamed, and he was picked up by different people in the Potter's switching man-to-man defense, but he was never guarded by more than one person at a time.

The story didn't mention that Salem coach John Cabas hit Potter player John Johnson, nor that Tom Fisher of the Quakers came off the bench to join the fight.

IN A COLUMN later in the week (which is where the opinions should be expressed), Miller denies that Larry Hrvatin of the Quakers started the fight. And accuses East Liverpool of ganging up on him. We contend Hrvatin started the incident by fouling Christian and then shoving Dan Cunningham on his broken nose, certainly a very unsportsmanlike act. It will be admitted that Christian threw the first punch, but Hrvatin, 6-3, against Cunningham, 5-10, was not too equal a fight.

In trying to get a neutral opinion on the incident, we talked to Evan Reese of Martins Ferry, one of the referees for the game. Reese was under the basket at the time of the disturbance, and has this version: "Salem's 43 (Hrvatin) fouled Christian as he was attempting to shoot, and their arms became entangled. I called the foul, but just at that time, another East Liverpool player, trying for the rebound, crashed into a Salem player, and they both went to the floor. Before I could get them separated everybody had gotten into the act. It was just one of those things that happens when there is tension in a ball game. I couldn't say which team would be at fault. I talked to the commissioner (of officials) and I told him it wasn't a big deal."

Miller hints that Salem might drop East Liverpool from its schedule next year because of the poor sportsmanship of the Potters. Salem and coach John Cabas hardly have room to talk, and possibly the Potters could find a more sportsmanlike opponent for their schedule.

Tim Crago's 24 Pace Late Rally

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

A fantastic Oak Glen rally was not enough to overcome a horrible start and the Golden Bears fell 67-59 to Weirton on the Red Riders' floor last night.

Led by Tim Crago, who got 22 of his 24 points in the second half, the Golden Bears came from 48-22 early in the third period to 55-51 with about five minutes to go in the game, but then lost their momentum and Weirton hung on to win.

A weird play in which Tom McGeehan of Oak Glen scored a basket for Weirton hurt the visitors. They had scored 8 points in a row to narrow the gap to 48-30 when a jump ball at the Weirton end went to McGeehan, who quickly laid the ball up and in Weirton scored another basket to widen the margin to 52-30, and the incident seemed of little importance at the time. But with the count 55-34, the Bears reeled off 17 points in a row, as Weirton didn't score from about the middle of the third period until 4:35 remained in the game.

Crago made all seven Oak Glen baskets in the final period, but Jim Carnes, who scored 14 points, lost the touch and missed six shots. It was 63-59 with 40 seconds to go when Weirton got the last two baskets to sew up the game. Terry Strong, who led the Riders with 18 points, got 6 in the final period. Nick Griener had 16 and Ron Smith 12.

In the first half the visitors could do nothing right, and Weiton streaked to a 21-4 first period margin and widened it 23-4 and 36-12, ending the half up 44-20. During the first half Weirton controlled the boards 30-23 and forced 14 turnovers while committing four. As a result they got 43 shots, making 18, while Oak Glen took only 20, making six. The Bears were also hurt by poor foul shooting, making 8 of 17 the first half and 15 of 31 for the game.

In the second half, with Larry Manypenny, McGeehan and Crago leading the way, the forces of Jack McDevitt controlled the boards 39-23, ending up with a 62-53 overall margin. Manypenny grabbed 17, Crago 11 and McGeehan 10. McGeehan, trying to make up for his misplay, also had numerous steals, as the Bears forced 10 turnovers while committing nine after intermission. Weirton still ended well ahead in this department, 23-14. Strong had 14 rebounds and Greiner 12.

Weirton hit 37 per cent and Oak Glen 35 per cent, and the Raiders got off 14 more shots. Greiner was hitting from all angles, especially in the first half, when he scored 12 points. Strong grabbed numerous offensive rebounds and got most of his scores from close to the basket.

Oak Glen is now 5-13, Weirton 11-7.

Oak Glen did take the reserve game, 65-63. Joe Algozino scored 22 and Bill Ferguson 19 as the forces of Alan Hoover raised their record to 9-8. Weirton is 7-9. Wally Phillips, Andy Guz, and Ken Webb each had 13 for the losers, with Charles Garrison adding 10. Weirton controlled the boards 55-46 as Webb had 13 and Garrison 10. Algozino had 16 and Ferguson 10 for the visitors. Weirton also forced 19 turnovers while committing 11, but good shooting saved Oak Glen. The Bears hit 42 per cent to 31 per cent by the Riders.

Oak Glen trailed virtually the whole first half, but finally caught up in the third period and the game was deadlocked at 46 entering the final stanza. With George Whittaker, who had entered the game as a sub, leading the way with six points, Oak Glen took a 56-50 lead with 3:30 to go. But Weirton kept stealing the ball and tied the game at 56 with 2:10 left. Algozino made a drive and John Everly two fouls, but helped by a technical foul on Hoover. Weirton came back to 60-59 and went ahead on a steal and layup by Garrison with 40 seconds left.

Oak Glen lost the ball again, but Everly stole the ball and scored, putting the Bears ahead for good with 20 seconds to go. Garrison missed a foul with 14 seconds left and Algozino rebounded. Whittaker was fouled to score for Weirton with three seconds left to make it 14-13. Ferguson was immediately fouled and made one, but missed the second, and Weirton had a chance for a desperation shot that missed.

Milwaukee Gets Rights To Alcindor

By The Associated Press

Lew Alcindor, the 7-foot-2 All-American of UCLA's national collegiate basketball champions, has been drafted by the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association and the Milwaukee Bucks of the National Basketball Association.

The selections were made in secret telephone drafts last Saturday by the ABA and a month ago by the NBA, it was revealed Tuesday night.

The ABA disclosures were made by the Oakland, Calif., Tribune and the St. Paul, Minn., Pioneer Press. Lee Meade, public relations director of the ABA, told of Milwaukee getting Alcindor in the NBA draft.

There was no official confirmation by either the ABA or the NBA, which are expected to go as high as a million dollars in the bidding for Alcindor, a former New York City schoolboy star.

"The ABA will not release anything on the draft until after the draft is held," Meade said. He added no date has been set for the draft.

"No comment," was all Arthur Brown, owner of the New York Nets, would say when asked if the Nets had landed the rights to Alcindor.

Bob Fowler, basketball writer for the St. Paul Pioneer Press, said the ABA had held two rounds in its secret draft and he obtained the complete selections from a "qualified source."

Frank Crosetti, Sal Maglie and Ron Plaza will coach the Seattle Pilots under Manager Joe Schultz next season. The Pilots and the Kansas City Royals are the two American League expansion teams.

Purdue Nips Indiana, Ohio State Defeated

by TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Purdue Boilermakers have just about wrapped up the Big Ten championship and a berth in the NCAA postseason tournament next month for the national collegiate basketball title.

The ninth-ranked Boilermakers did it the hard way Tuesday night. They edged Indiana on the road 96-95 and took a two-game lead over Ohio State in the Big Ten race with an assist from Illinois. The Illini, playing at home, knocked off the 10th-ranked Buckeyes 73-57.

Rick Mount threw in 32 points for Purdue, but it was Herman Gilliam's two free throws with seven seconds left that decided the issue. The two charity conversions put the Boilermakers three points ahead, enough to offset Indiana's basket at the buzzer.

"I guess this is the kind you have to win on the road," said George King, Purdue coach. "But, man, it's hard on the coach."

He was referring to Indiana's second-half rally that wiped out a 14-point deficit that tied the score before the Boilermakers pulled it out. Ken Johnson topped Hoosiers with 29 points.

Purdue has five conference games left, three at home against Northwestern, Michigan and Indiana and two on the road against Michigan State and Iowa, All the Boilermakers have to do to win the three at home and split on the road and they're in as Big Ten champs.

Illinois, No. 19 in the Associated Press rankings, opened a 10-point lead in the second half against Ohio State at 43-33 and the outcome was never in doubt thereafter. Mike Price led the Illini with 20 points. Dave Sorenson was high for the Buckeyes with 25.

In other games involving teams in the AP top 20, West Texas scored a 93-92 two overtime home court triumph over 15th-ranked New Mexico State and 20th-ranked Marquette scored on the road over Xavier of Ohio 67-54.

Texas A&M tightened its hold on first place in the Southwest Conference by downing Baylor 86-74. Jim Irving's steal and lay-up with one second left gave St. Louis a 94-93 overtime victory over North Texas.

Jim Downey's 20-foot jumper with five seconds left tied the regulation game at 61-61 and Boston College went on to defeat Georgetown, D. C., 72-66 in overtime. L. C. Bowen's 29 points paced Bradley over Memphis State 88-62 and Mike Newlin's 25 points led Utah over Oklahoma City dispite Rich Travis' 39 points for the Chiefs.

Indiana Nips Pipers, Closes ABA Gap

By The Associated Press

Indiana, which toppled from first to fourth place in three days in the American Basketball Association's tight Eastern Division race, may be on the way up again.

The Pacers defeated Minnesota 140-133 Tuesday night to prevent the Pipers from moving into a virtual first-place tie with Miami, and leaving themselves only one percentage point out of third place.

In the only other ABA game, a 21-foot jumper by Henry Logan beat the gun to give the Oakland Oaks a 118-116 overtime victory over Denver.

The loss dropped The Rockets 11 games back of Oakland in the Western Division.

In the NBA, Los Angeles beat New York 113-109, Philadelphia whipped San Diego 125-113, Atlanta edged Cincinnati 124-123, Boston downed Phoenix 116-110, San Francisco stopped Detroit 121-114 and Seattle nipped Chicago 114-113.

Mel Daniels pumped in 40 points for Indiana and Charlie Williams came off the bench to score 41 for Minnesota. Williams didn't start because of a sprained ankle.

Roger Brown and Freddie Lewis both scored 27 points for Indiana.

Denver had trailed throughout the overtime period until rookie Walt Piatkowski hit a three-pointer good with six seconds left to tie the score at 116-all.

Just before Piatkowski's shot, Logan appeared to have put the game out of reach by connecting on two free throws. He ended up with 31 points.

Larry Jones continued his sharp-shooting for Denver, scoring 42 points, Piatkowski had 23. Warren Armstrong tallied 26 for Oakland.

Owners Make Offer, Players Considering

by TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A break in the gauntlet laid down by the major league baseball owners may come today. If it does not, a strike by the players would appear to be certain.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players' Association, said he expected to have sometime today the result of his poll of the players' executive committee on whether to accept or reject the owners' latest offer in the pension dispute.

Miller has recommended that the committee reject the owners offer of Monday, increasing the players pension package to $5.3 million a year, compared to the $.5 million yearly that the players want.

The owners' latest offer came after they had rejected Miller's offer to submit the pension dispute to binding arbitration.

"The owners still are testing the players," Miller said. "They have laid down the gauntlet."

"The next move is up to the players," said John Gaherin, head of the owners' negotiating committee. Gaherin pointed out the owners' latest offer would increase benefits for 10-year players from $500 a month to $590. The players seek $600, plus various improvements in health and insurance benefits.

Time is of the essence in the dispute since many early training camps already have opened in Florida, although only a token crew of rookies or non-roster players have reported.

The big name players, who have said they will refuse to report until the pension squabble is settled, have until March 1, the official date for holdouts and the actual strike deadline.

Mike Burke, president of the New York Yankees, pointed up the possibility of no major league baseball this season "unless the players become reasonable."

Will Remain In Oakland

NEW YORK (AP) — The Oakland Seals might be going places in National Hockey League standings but the franchise isn't moving.

The league made that decision Tuesday, rejecting bids by Vancouver and Buffalo groups to shift the franchise.

"I'm distinctly bullish about the success of pro hockey in the Oakland rink," NHL President Clarence Campbell said after a meeting of the league's Board of Governors.

Purdue Nips Indiana, Ohio State Defeated

by TED MEIER
sociated Press Sports Writer

The Purdue Boilermakers ve just about wrapped up the g Ten championship and a rth in the NCAA postseason rnament next month for the tional collegiate basketball ti-

The ninth-ranked Boilermak- s did it the hard way Tuesday ght. They edged Indiana on road 96-95 and took a two- me lead over Ohio State in Big Ten race with an assist m Illinois. The Illini, playing home, knocked off the 10th- nked Buckeyes 73-57.

Rick Mount threw in 32 points Purdue, but it was Herman lliam's two free throws with ven seconds left that decided issue. The two charity con- sions put the Boilermakers ee points ahead, enough to set Indiana's basket at the zzer.

"I guess this is the kind you ve to win on the road," said orge King, Purdue coach. ut, man, it's hard on the ach."

He was referring to Indiana's cond-half rally that wiped out 14-point deficit that tied the re before the Boilermakers lled it out. Ken Johnson ped Hoosiers with 29 points. Purdue has five conference mes left, three at home ainst Northwestern, Michigan and Indiana and two on the road against Michigan State and Iowa, All the Boilermakers have to do to win the three at home and split on the road and they're in as Big Ten champs.

Illinois, No. 19 in the Associated Press rankings, opened a 10-point lead in the second half against Ohio State at 43-33 and the outcome was never in doubt thereafter. Mike Price led the Illini with 20 points. Dave Sorenson was high for the Buckeyes with 25.

In other games involving teams in the AP top 20, West Texas scored a 93-92 two overtime home court triumph over 15th-ranked New Mexico State and 20th-ranked Marquette scored on the road over Xavier of Ohio 67-54.

Texas A&M tightened its hold on first place in the Southwest Conference by downing Baylor 86-74. Jim Irving's steal and lay-up with one second left gave St. Louis a 94-93 overtime victory over North Texas.

Jim Downey's 20-foot jumper with five seconds left tied the regulation game at 61-61 and Boston College went on to defeat Georgetown, D. C., 72-66 in overtime. L. C. Bowen's 29 points paced Bradley over Memphis State 88-62 and Mike Newlin's 25 points led Utah over Oklahoma City dispite Rich Travis' 39 points for the Chiefs.

Ramos KOs Cruz In 11th, Wins Lightweight Title

by BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The new lightweight champion of the world is Mando Ramos, at age 20 the youngest ever to reach such a lofty position in the history of the 135-pound division in boxing.

The tousled-haired, spindly legged kid from Long Beach, Calif., won the title when he stopped 31-year-old Teo Cruz of the Dominican Republic in the 11th round of their scheduled 15-round fight Tuesday night. Cruz weighed 134¾ Ramos 134½.

Ramos, the ring rage of the teeny-bopper set, was six months off target. He wanted to win the title as a 19-year-old last September against the champion, Cruz.

"Sorry about that," quipped Mando when reminded of the quest which failed in the first fight with the man from Santo Domingo.

Ramos ripped open an ugly gash over Teo's left eye in the eighth round. He kept reopening it, as well as slicing a smaller cut under the eye, until the bloody drama was stopped with 19 seconds remaining in the 11th.

Under California rules, it goes as a knockout, only the second suffered by Cruz in more than a decade as a professional fighter.

"I cut him with a right hand as he came in," said Ramos, whose ring span is some four years and only 26 engagements.

Peter Martinez, an American businessman and Teo's manager, had no complaints. "I felt Teo was a little ahead at the time but the doctor was very fair."

Ring officials had different scores after 10 rounds. Thomas had Ramos ahead, 5-3; judge Dick Young had it four Cruz, 6-3, and judge George Latka scored it even, 4-4. The Associated Press had it Cruz, 5-3, and all agreed the youngsters was coming on fast.

What's next?

"We really don't know just yet. A guy would have to be a real optimist to make any plans before going into a title fight," said Jackie McCoy, Ramos' manager.

"We'll ask for a rematch. After all, we gave him two shots at the title," said Martinez.

The bout attracted 14,183 fans who paid $140,732.

"Sure, he hit me but he never really hurt me," said Ramos. "And after a few rounds I told Jackie I'd win."

Mando hardly rates with such former lightweight greats as Benny Leonard, Willie Ritche or Beau Jack.

But he has one distinction. They didn't win the championship until they were 21.

Gets Patrick Trophy

Hull Receives Award For Service To Hockey

by HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull has won enough awards and trophies in his hockey career to last him a lifetime. There have been two Hart Trophies as the National Hockey League's Most Valuable Player, three Art Ross Trophies as the scoring champion and one Lady Byng Trophy as the player best combining ability and sportsmanship.

All of the honors have been for Hull's performance on the ice as one of the most dynamic players in NHL history. That's why the Chicago Black Hawks' star left winger attaches a special significance to his latest award—the Lester Patrick Trophy presented to him at an NHL reception Tuesday night.

"This is especially wonderful," said Hull, "because it has nothing to do with the way I play hockey."

The Patrick Award is presented for outstanding service to hockey in the United States. The late Eddie Jeremiah, longtime hockey coach at Dartmouth College, was honored along with Hull.

"I believe I've been chosen for this honor simply because I've tried to be good to the wonderful people who come to watch hockey," said Hull. "Maybe it's for all the times I've kept my teammates waiting on busses and trains while is signed autographs."

Hull, one of the most articulate and warmest players in hockey, has always been a soft touch for autograph hounds.

"I figure if people want to waste their time waiting around for me," said Hull, "an autograph or two is the least I can do for them."

Then Hull glanced down from the rostrum to where Detroit's great Gordie Howe, a Patrick Award winner two years ago, was sitting.

"I remember waiting in a lobby, trying to get up the nerve to ask Gordie for his autograph," said Hull, who was still in grade school when Howe broke into the NHL 23 years ago. "I know how a kid feels."

Hull said that part of the reason he is so friendly to youngsters is his belief that athletes hold an important role in a boys' development.

"Kids put athletes on a pedestal," said Hull. "If we can keep them on the right track, then we've really accomplished something."

Legal Details Holding Up Williams Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the Washington baseball team says it may be Friday or Saturday before the finishing touches are put on the million dollar deal that will make former slugger Ted Williams the Senators' manager and give him a chunk of the American League club's stock.

When the deal is completed, Williams will become the best paid manager in baseball history.

Roman Band Wins Feature At Waterford

Waterford Park opened its 88-day spring racing season yesterday before an enthusiastic crowd of 4,592.

The tri-state fans welcomed back racing in grand fashion, wagering $350,528 on the 10 events.

The per capita bet of slightly more than $76 was almost the same as the mark established during the 1968 season when nearly a million fans wagered well over $74 million dollars, a new record for West Virginia racing.

As expected, Sherman McDowell's highly consistent Roman Band won the featured Mardi Gras Purse by three lengths as the top-heavy favorite of the opening day gathering.

Lintri checked in second, barely edging Minstrel King for runner-up honors.

Roman Band, ridden by Apache Indian Roman Sainz took the lead soon after the start in the abbreviated 4½ furlong headliner and gradually increased his advantage under mild urging.

Owner - trainer William H. Wolfendale III had a field day, as he saddled three winners on the program.

Wolfendale won last fall's training title at Waterford, and served notice that he has every intention of winning the crown again.

The young conditioner sent out Textonian in the first, Busy Agent in the fourth and Melody Watch in the eighth.

It was a big day too for Jockey Ray Nakama. The Hawaiian-born rider also scored with three winners. Last fall, Nakama was the early leader in the rider's race, but forfeited, any chance of winning when he decided to try his luck in California.

Ramos KOs Cruz In 11th, Wins Lightweight Title

by BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The new lightweight champion of the world is Mando Ramos, at age 20 the youngest ever to reach such a lofty position in the history of the 135-pound division in boxing.

The tousled-haired, spindly legged kid from Long Beach, Calif., won the title when he stopped 31-year-old Teo Cruz of the Dominican Republic in the 11th round of their scheduled 15-round fight Tuesday night. Cruz weighed 134¾ Ramos 134½.

Ramos, the ring rage of the teeny-bopper set, was six months off target. He wanted to win the title as a 19-year-old last September against the champion, Cruz.

"Sorry about that," quipped Mando when reminded of the quest which failed in the first fight with the man from Santo Domingo.

Ramos ripped open an ugly gash over Teo's left eye in the eighth round. He kept reopening it, as well as slicing a smaller cut under the eye, until the bloody drama was stopped with 19 seconds remaining in the 11th.

Under California rules, it goes as a knockout, only the second suffered by Cruz in more than a decade as a professional fighter.

"I cut him with a right hand as he came in," said Ramos, whose ring span is some four years and only 26 engagements.

Peter Martinez, an American businessman and Teo's manager, had no complaints. "I felt Teo was a little ahead at the time but the doctor was very fair."

Ring officials had different scores after 10 rounds. Thomas had Ramos ahead, 5-3; judge Dick Young had it four Cruz, 6-3, and judge George Latka scored it even, 4-4. The Associated Press had it Cruz, 5-3, and all agreed the youngsters was coming on fast.

What's next?

"We really don't know just yet. A guy would have to be a real optimist to make any plans before going into a title fight," said Jackie McCoy, Ramos' manager.

"We'll ask for a rematch. After all, we gave him two shots at the title," said Martinez.

The bout attracted 14,183 fans who paid $140,732.

"Sure, he hit me but he never really hurt me," said Ramos. "And after a few rounds I told Jackie I'd win."

Mando hardly rates with such former lightweight greats as Benny Leonard, Willie Ritche or Beau Jack.

But he has one distinction. They didn't win the championship until they were 21.

Gets Patrick Trophy

Hull Receives Award For Service To Hockey

by HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull has won enough awards and trophies in his hockey career to last him a lifetime. There have been two Hart Trophies as the National Hockey League's Most Valuable Player, three Art Ross Trophies as the scoring champion and one Lady Byng Trophy as the player best combining ability and sportsmanship.

All of the honors have been for Hull's performance on the ice as one of the most dynamic players in NHL history. That's why the Chicago Black Hawks' star left winger attaches a special significance to his latest award—the Lester Patrick Trophy presented to him at an NHL reception Tuesday night.

"This is especially wonderful," said Hull, "because it has nothing to do with the way I play hockey."

The Patrick Award is presented for outstanding service to hockey in the United States. The late Eddie Jeremiah, longtime hockey coach at Dartmouth College, was honored along with Hull.

"I believe I've been chosen for this honor simply because I've tried to be good to the wonderful people who come to watch hockey," said Hull. "Maybe it's for all the times I've kept my teammates waiting on busses and trains while is signed autographs."

Hull, one of the most articulate and warmest players in hockey, has always been a soft touch for autograph hounds.

"I figure if people want to waste their time waiting around for me," said Hull, "an autograph or two is the least I can do for them."

Then Hull glanced down from the rostrum to where Detroit's great Gordie Howe, a Patrick Award winner two years ago, was sitting.

"I remember waiting in a lobby, trying to get up the nerve to ask Gordie for his autograph," said Hull, who was still in grade school when Howe broke into the NHL 23 years ago. "I know how a kid feels."

Hull said that part of the reason he is so friendly to youngsters is his belief that athletes hold an important role in a boys' development.

"Kids put athletes on a pedestal," said Hull. "If we can keep them on the right track, then we've really accomplished something."

Legal Details Holding Up Williams Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the Washington baseball team says it may be Friday or Saturday before the finishing touches are put on the million dollar deal that will make former slugger Ted Williams the Senators' manager and give him a chunk of the American League club's stock.

When the deal is completed, Williams will become the best paid manager in baseball history.

Roman Band Wins Feature At Waterford

Waterford Park opened its 88-day spring racing season yesterday before an enthusiastic crowd of 4,592.

The tri-state fans welcomed back racing in grand fashion, wagering $350,528 on the 10 events.

The per capita bet of slightly more than $76 was almost the same as the mark established during the 1968 season when nearly a million fans wagered well over $74 million dollars, a new record for West Virginia racing.

As expected, Sherman McDowell's highly consistent Roman Band won the featured Mardi Gras Purse by three lengths as the top-heavy favorite of the opening day gathering.

Lintri checked in second, barely edging Minstrel King for runner-up honors.

Roman Band, ridden by Apache Indian Roman Sainz took the lead soon after the start in the abbreviated 4½ furlong headliner and gradually increased his advantage under mild urging.

Owner - trainer William H. Wolfendale III had a field day, as he saddled three winners on the program.

Wolfendale won last fall's training title at Waterford, and served notice that he has every intention of winning the crown again.

The young conditioner sent out Textonian in the first, Busy Agent in the fourth and Melody Watch in the eighth.

It was a big day too for Jockey Ray Nakama. The Hawaiian-born rider also scored with three winners. Last fall, Nakama was the early leader in the rider's race, but forfeited, any chance of winning when he decided to try his luck in California.

ANN LANDERS

Itch Threatens Romance

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Is it possible that my boy friend is allergic to me? Lately when we're together he breaks out in a rash and starts to itch like crazy. Believe me, this can ruin a romantic moment.

At first I thought it might be my wool sweater, but the same thing happened when I wore silk and cotton dresses. One day, as an experiment, I took almost everything off and he itched worse than ever.

Does this mean we can't get married? Please check with your consultants and get some word back to me immediately. If you say to go to a doctor he has promised that he'll go. Thank you for any help you can give us. — WORRIED WENDY.

Dear Wendy: Your boy friend might be allergic to something you are wearing other than clothing, such as makeup, hair spray or perfume. He should go at once to an allergist who will tell him what to bring in for testing.

If the tests reveal no allergies and the itching persists, he should consider the possibility that the rash is caused by an emotional problem. He might be "itching" to get married, or he may be afraid of marriage and "itching" to stay single.

In any case, be careful with those experiments, Buttercup, or YOU might wind up with an additional problem.

Lonely Widow

Dear Ann: Your reply to the widow who translated a former friend's sympathy note as, "Get lost," could only have been written by a woman such as you — one who is happily and safely married.

You said an interesting and alert widow not only hangs on to her old friends but makes new ones. You're partly right. She'll make new friends all right. If she isn't careful she'll find herself surrounded by droves of widows, divorcees and maiden ladies — all just as lonely and isolated from married people as she is.

After awhile she'll resign herself to the truth — it's better to go to the theater or a movie with another lonely woman than to sit home in a bathrobe.

I hope the widow who wrote to you will ask herself, "How many widows did I include in my social life when my husband was alive?" It's a good question for married women to ask themselves, too. God alone knows whose husband will be next. — WASHINGTON, D.C.

Dear D.C.: Your letter is sure to prick the conscience of some and job the memory of others. Please read the next letter. It could be your laugh for the day.

They're Harmless

Dear Ann: Don't close the discussion on widows without adding this one last thought.

As a widow, I'm accustomed to being left out of things by old "friends." But I get furious when wives whisk their husbands away from me at cocktail parties and civic functions as if I were a scheming hussy with evil designs.

Most of the old goats have hearing aids, emphysema and are loaded with liver spots. Who'd want them anyway?

There are more bad marriages around than good ones, and nobody knows this better than Ann Landers. My marriage was not a very good one but I kept my mouth shut and never let on to anyone.

Of course I'm lonely, but I'm also reasonably content and far from miserable. The last thing I want is to get married again. So tell those smug women to stop worrying. They're safe. — DUSK.

Dear Dusk: I don't need to tell them, Honey. YOU did And I thank you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Hardening Line On ABM

Senate Unit Seen Moving Toward Quick A-Pact OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee appears to be steering toward prompt approval of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty while at the same time laying more groundwork for a hardened line on antimissile defense.

Questioning of Secretary of State William P. Rogers Tuesday made it clear that in the minds of critics of the controversial Sentinel antiballistic missile system that the defense project and the nuclear treaty are tightly entwined.

Rogers rejected the view that immediate deployment of the Sentinel System would run counter to U.S. pledges under the ninproliferation treaty.

The committee recessed today. But it was a foregone conclusion that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird would face the same criticism of the Sentinel when he goes before the committee Thursday to conpaign for quick ratification of the treaty.

The Sentinel system would use nuclear-armed defensive missiles to destroy enemy missiles.

The Nixon administration halted work on the system two weeks ago after criticism in the Senate and from residents of areas being considered as Sentinel sites.

Laird has indicated work will resume after the Pentagon completes a review of the $5.5-billion system begun by the Johnson administration and approved in the last Congress.

Since there is little doubt the treaty will be ratified, committee members concentrated on how the United States will implement its terms, particularly Article VI, which says, in part:

"Each of the parties to the treaty undertakes to pursue negotiations in good faith on effective measures relating to cessation of the nuclear arms race at an early date and to nuclear disarmament, and on a treaty on general and complete disarmament . . ."

Chairman J. W. Fulbright asked Rogers whether, in view of that article, unilateral deployment of an ABM system by this country would not conflict with the treaty.

"No, I don't think so," said Rogers.

Pathologist's Testimony Due In Shaw Trial

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — After a Mardi Gras layoff, Clay Sraw's trial on a charge of conspiring to assassinate President Kennedy gets back to a Kansas pathologist and the Zapruder film.

Dr. John M. Nichols of Prairie Village, Kan., a Kanas City suburb, testified Monday that a study of the home movie showing the assassination indicates the President could have been shot from in front.

The sequestered Criminal District Court jurors, guarded by deputies, were seated on an isolated balcony overlooking the Rex parade—but spent most of the time during Mardi Gras at their hotel.

Shaw, 55, a retired businessman, had a quiet holiday with friends. He has been free on $10,000 bond since his arrest by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison in 1967.

Garrison's attempting to show that President Kennedy was shot by a gunner in front as well as behind him, that conspirators set up a crossfire in Dallas' Dealey Plaza Nov. 22, 1963.

The Warren Commission Report said Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, shot the President from a building facing Dealey Plaza as the motorcade passed through.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Practice For Icing Cake

DEAR HELOISE: I am a teacher of special education for teenagers, and one of the skills I have my girls try their hand decorating.

Heloise

Before using the regular icing, I give them tubes of shaving cream and let them practice with it.

We fill the decorator with shaving cream and the girls make designs on waxed paper.

When it is all used up, they scrape it off with a rubber spatula and pack it back into the decorator for practice again.

This idea could also be a good rainy day project for a creative youngster. You'll be surprised how well it works and how long the designs stand up. FRANCES GORSCH.

DEAR HELOISE: When cleaning a toilet bowl, pour in a pail of water first. If this is done real fast it will flush the toilet without having it fill with water again.

In this way your cleaner will mix with only a small amount of water and do a much better job with less cleanser. LOUISE KLEIN.

Thank you, Louise, for reminding us of this old trick that gets the job done. I'm sure it will be new to many, many gals.

Your way makes it easier, and saves on bowl cleaner 'cause most of it stays where it's needed and doesn't run down the bowl.

I have a small plastic trash basket in my bathroom that is just right to fill with water for lowering the water line.

I always pour the water fast and from as high as I can. Find it works better. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: We have a large family and a small dining room. With our hutch in the dining room, we didn't have enough space for all the chairs.

So I covered the back of the hutch with adhesive-backed plastic in a blending color. Then pushed it into the entrance of the dining area and now we have a room divider.

The hutch looks nice from the rear and we have ample room around the dining table for all our chairs. CAROLYN HOLLADAY.

DEAR FOLKS: Thanks for the many letters telling us how you get moss off a brick patio or walk.

It seems that most people use plain household bleach. Some use it straight out of the bottle and some dilute it, based on how large the area is that has to be cleaned or how thick the moss is.

Others use diluted lye water. (READ CAUTIONS on containers.)

One nice gentleman who runs a laboratory said to use a tough-bristled brush, dipped into a solution of one pound of copper sulphate (cheap commercial grade) per gallon of water.

Brush the bricks with it and it should get rid of the moss for a long time. The brush should be made of stiff plastic or be a cheap one, because the copper sulphate solution will damage the brush severely.

In using any of the three things mentioned, one should wear rubber gloves, read all CAUTIONS and labels on containers and brush the solution on the mossy bricks with an old brush or broom that you can throw away after using. Let the stuff dry. Then rinse it off being careful not to get too much of it on near by flowers or bushes.

We all know how strong bleach and lye are. So be careful to keep the kiddies away and don't splash any of it in your eyes. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: While making peanut butter cookies recently, I didn't have the sufficient amount of peanut butter for the recipe. But I did have two peanut butter candy bars (covered with chocolate). I broke these up in small pieces and tossed them in the batter, chocolate and all.

My husband declared they were the best he'd had yet. MRS. FITZGERALD.

DEAR HELOISE: I found that in order to remove eggs and other food particles from your fork prongs, just run the prongs in and out of a net potscraper.

It works like magic. Then wash the forks in your favorite dish detergent and they will be as clean as new ones. MRS. FRANK CELIKOVICH.

Weirton Widens Drive On Crime

WEIRTON — The objectives of the Crime - Stop Program were outlined and a chairman of the steering committee appointed Monday during a meeting here.

In addition, three subcommittees were organized to work in conjunction with the basic committee. They concern law enforcement, juveniles and businesses.

Craig Kramer of the Weirton Steel Corp. was appointed chairman of the committee, with Michael Sinicropi vice chairman. Mrs. Robert Mucha is secretary - treasurer.

Crime - Stop was established by Mayor Frank Rybka as an extensive police - community relations program aimed at curbing crime here.

Rockefeller Center in New York has a daily population of 208,500, according to the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau. In bad weather those people don't have to go outside. One and a half miles of underground passageways lead to restaurants, stores, barber shops, dry cleaners, banks and a post office.

East Junior Band To Play Friday Night

A program will be presented by the East Junior High School Concert Band Friday night at 7:30 under the direction of James McGinty.

Marches, classical, Broadway and popular selections will be offered. Clarinets, percussion and flutes will be featured.

Tina Adkins will present a piano solo, "Ebb Tide."

McGinty, a former teacher in Fremont, joined the East Liverpool school system in August. He received his bachelor of music degree from Youngstown University and a master of music education degree from Notre Dame in 1965.

The concert is open to the public. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Safe In Jail

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (AP) — The Williams jail has unusual lodgers when art shows come to town. Chamber of Commerce Manager Bob Sharp and City Manager Mike McNulty were worried about $50,000 worth of paintings from Taos, N.M., in Williams for a week before a weekend art carnival. They agreed that the safest place for the treasures was the local pokey.

Various Activities Outlined By Midland Area Girl Scouts

Announcement of Girl Scout Sunday March 9 was made at the meeting of the Midland Area Girl Scout Association Monday.

Scouts are asked to wear their uniforms and attend the church of their faith to mark the day.

Committees were named for the Juliet Low tea which will be held March 22 from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. The association is awaiting an answer from the Western Beaver County school board relative to the use of the cafetorium for the tea.

Committees include Mrs. Barney Davis, Ohioville; Mrs. Paul Vojnovich and Mrs. Denver Honaker, Midland Heights; Mrs. Milan Prodonovich, Midland and Mrs. Albert Nutz and Mrs. James Stahl, Ohioview, Industry.

Mrs. Honaker will be in charge of "service pins" which will be awarded. Leaders are asked to contact her by Feb. 28 with the names of recipients.

Adults will attend a play at Westminster College May 6 at 8:15 p. m. for their observance of the tea. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Stahl.

Mrs. Prodonovich, chairman, said day camp will be June 23-27 at Camp Fombelina near Zelienople. The first indoor day camp session will be held April 8 at the St. Christine Church Hall in Industry. Anyone interested in working at the camp is welcome, she said.

The Beaver - Castle spring dinner will be held at St. Rose's Church in Darlington April 22 at 6 p.m. Reservations may be made with Mrs. James Green of Midland.

Senior Troop 110, with Mrs. Elmer Gifford leader, is publishing a newsletter. Leaders with items for the March issue are asked to contact Marsha Preston of Industry before Feb. 27.

Mrs. Vincent Beane, registrar from the Beaver County office, will register troops at the next meeting March 17 in the Midland Heights Community Building at 1 p. m.

Two Banks Offer Charge Cards In District Service

The First National Bank and Potters Bank and Trust Co. will soon introduce a bank charge plan into the East Liverpool area, officials announced today.

The two banks, in cooperation with Mellon National Bank and Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, will begin signing area merchants and sending out "Master Charge" cards.

First National and Potters are associates of the Mellon Bank Charge Service which adopted the name "Master Charge" last month.

Robert E. Boyce, president of First National said: "The service enables merchants to offer customers monthly billing and extended payments without tying up the merchant's funds. The merchant receives immediate cash for each charge sale."

Master Charge cards are honored at more than 200,000 business establishments in most states of the nation and in Europe, Japan and Mexico.

"We feel this is one of the most valuable services we can provide our customers," said Gordon E. Starkey, president of Potters Bank and Trust. "Cardholders will receive one monthly statement, together with an itemized receipt for each purchase, and will have 25 days to pay the bill in full without a service charge."

"Customers wishing to extend payment over a longer period may do so automatically, simply by paying less than the full amount. In that case, there is a service charge of 1¼ per cent a month — one of the lowest in the nation," Starkey added.

The expression, "two bits," comes from the days when the Spanish dollar was often used as currency in American colonies. When small change was needed, the dollar was cut. The coin could be divided into eight pieces, or bits.

3-Way Crash Hurts Couple; Car Hits Child

An East End man and a Georgetown area girl were injured at 1:20 a.m. today when their auto crashed into two parked cars on Pennsylvania Ave. 70 feet west of Oakland Ave., police reported.

Taken to City Hospital were Daniel Ray Michael, 22, of 1669 Ohio Ave. and his passenger, Grace Wilkinson, 18, of Georgetown RD 1. Police said both suffered cuts on the head.

The girl was listed "fair" today with abrasions of the forehead and both knees. Michael is "satisfactory." He suffered lacerations of the forehead and possible chest injuries.

Officers said Michael's eastbound 1963 two-door sedan, traveling about 50 miles an hour, hit the rear of a parked 1963 convertible owned by Robert Willison of 1812 Harvey Ave. and shoved it into a parked 1966 model sports car owned by Richard Howard of 1646 Pennsylvania Ave.

Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon cited Michael on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and failure to stop in the assured clear distance. He will appear in Municipal Court when he is released from the hospital.

Officers said they were unable to obtain a statement from Michael on details of the crash. Miss Wilkinson said the couple was en route to her home in Georgetown via Midland. She said she did not know what happened, but believed the steering gear locked. Officers said a mechanic checked the steering on the Michael auto and found it in good condition.

The collision damaged the front end of Michael's car, both the front and rear of Willison's auto and the rear and both sides of Howard's car.

Meanwhile, a child escaped serious injury Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. when she was bumped by an auto in the 1900 block of Dresden Ave., officers said.

She is Debbie Newland, 10, daughter of Thomas Newland, who was struck by a southbound 1959 four-door sedan driven by Sylvia Irene Barber, 59, of 834 W. 9th St.

The driver told officers she was inbound on Dresden Ave. when the child darted in front of her car. The woman said she applied her brakes, but the girl was hit by the right front bumper of the car. Taken to the hospital by her father, the child was examined and released.

East End Group Granted Charter

A non - profit charter was granted today by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus to East End Community Civic Organization, Inc.

According to the charter, the corporation was formed. . ."to promote civic improvement in and about the city of East Liverpool and to secure and interest others in such improvement."

Initial trustees are Clyde Boggess, John Laitsch and Bert Willison, with Willison listed as statutory agent.

Chester Post Sets Fete For Past Leaders

Past commanders will be honored by Chester VFW Post 6450 with a dinner March 22 at the post home.

Comdr. Richard Shingler announced that Don S. Maupin of Moundsville, national chief of staff, will be one of four guest speakers. Others include Ivan Hodges of Elkins, department commander; William Smallbridge of Huntington, state senior vice commander, and Jack Bennett of Grafton, state department junior vice commander.

In addition to past commanders, Sanford Graham, who was named national Aide De Camp and also citizen of the month by American Legion Post 121, will be honored that night.

The committee for the dinner includes Dan Rhodes, Hap Allison, Harry Hall, Clyde Casto, Hap Rhodes, Chuck Cronin and Shingler. Dancing will follow the dinner.

The post granted permission for William Maple, service officer, and Graham to attend the service officers' school at Jackson's Mill April 18-20.

Officers will be elected at the first meeting in April.

Enrolled as members were Harold Dyke, Harry Moore, Robert Heffner and Bruce Wheatley of East Liverpool, Howard Copestick of Newell and John Allison of Georgetown.

Thieves Obtain Tools In Looting 2 Vehicles

A Beechwood man and a Chester resident reported to police Tuesday that tools and other items valued at $250 were stolen from their parked vehicles on the River Rd.

Tom Jackson of 324 Haywood St. reported at 12:45 p.m. yesterday that his truck was looted between 8 p.m. Monday and 9 a.m. yesterday of two socket sets, a hammer, assorted box-end wrenches, a pair of black leather gloves and several cans of oil. He valued the property at $50.

Firman Humme of Fairview Rd., Chester, told officers a thief forced open a wing window of his truck between 4:30 p. m. Monday and 1:14 p.m. Tuesday and took a box of assorted tools worth $200 and a pair of shoes.

Meanwhile, officials of the Ohio River Oil Co. told officers Tuesday afternoon a two - inch pump and a 3½ - horsepower motor were stolen from the company's terminal between noon Saturday and Monday.

The U.S. $100,000 bill is used in transactions between the Federal Reserve System and the Treasury Department.

WE PACK MEAT WITH THE BEST SIDE DOWN!

We don't want you to wonder about the side you can't see.

So we put the best side down. The side of the meat you can't see is guaranteed to be equal to or better than the side you can see.

That's our policy...that's our practice. It takes the worrying out of buying pre-packaged meats.

Famous Funk & Wagnalls Encyclopedia Volume....

STANDARD REFERENCE

384 PAGES OF VALUABLE FACTS, INTERESTING PICTURES, FULL-COLOR MAPS

ONLY 9¢

WE THINK every family should own a good authoritative encyclopedia — especially in homes where there are children of school age.

We believe the Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia is the ideal set because it is highly recommended for home and family use, and we can make it available to you at about one-half the publisher's price.

And, through our book-at-a-time plan, the small cost per book fits even the most modest budget . . .

To convince you that everything we say is true we are willing to give you Volume No. 1 for only 9¢ with any food purchase of $3.00 or more. Yes — for only 9¢ you can take home Volume No. 1 of the encyclopedia to examine at your leisure—to show to the other members of your family—to permit your children to get their teacher's approval.

Then, if you are delighted with the volume and want to own the other volumes of the set, they can be yours for only $1.69 each—that's 50% off the publisher's regular price—a truly amazing value!

4 Provisions Set By Judge

Youth Given Probation In Accident Fatal To Two

LISBON — Judge Louis Tobin of Columbiana County Juvenile Court granted probation Tuesday to Randy K. Wilson, 17, of Sebring, who last May 18 was involved in a traffic accident that killed a Smiths Ferry couple.

Cars driven by the youth and Dan Katich, 73, of Smiths Ferry collided at the intersection of Route 62 and Johnson Rd. Three miles east of Alliance. Mr. Katich and his wife Sophie, 74, were killed.

Judge Tobin ordered the youth to:

(1) Surrender his driver's license and not to drive until Jan. 1, 1971; (2) beginning in June, pay $10 per week to the court until the sum of $1,500 is paid — primarily to go toward the funeral expenses of the victims, or, if that is not feasible, the money will be distributed to charity at the court's discretion; (3) report every other week to Myron West, Mahoning County probation officer who will act in this case for the court, and (4) be of good behavior and obey all laws.

The accident occurred the evening of May 18 as Randy and his date and another couple were on their way to the Sebring McKinley High School junior - senior program dinner at Alliance.

Ohio Highway patrolmen said Randy was driving south on Johnson Rd., went through the Route 62 stop sign and struck the eastbound Katich car in the south lane of Route 62.

Testifying at the trial Jan. 20, Randy declared his brakes failed.

Duane Yeagley, assistant prosecuting attorney, cited an Ohio Supreme Court ruling that brake failure is no defense for failure to halt for a stop sign and the trial ended abruptly when the boy's counsel, Michael Tangi of Alliance, withdrew his client's plea of not guilty and pleaded "no contest." He asked for probation and Judge Tobin set the hearing for yesterday.

As character witnesses yesterday, counsel called Coach Chet Jiffle of McKinley High; Chief of Police Paul Gednetz of Sebring and his wife, Evelyn Gednetz, guidance counselor at McKinley High; the Rev. C. O. Armstrong of the First United Presbyterian Church, Sebring; Donald Barcus of Sebring, project engineer for the East Ohio Machinery Co., and the boy's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Wilson Wright.

The sum of their testimony was that the youth is dependable, honest, intelligent and industrious and an excellent subject for probation.

A senior at McKinley, he is a member of the National Honor Society, ranks in the upper 10 per cent of his class, won the student - athlete award at the football banquet last fall, was a Boys State delegate last summer and has been nominated for both the U. S. Naval Academy and the Air Force Academy. He works after school and on weekends at an Alliance service station.

Yeagley said it is rare to have a boy of Randy's caliber in court, "but the only thing that bothers me is his story about how the accident happened. I don't believe he has been truthful with this court."

Yeagley called the youth to the witness chair yesterday and asked him if he still maintains the brakes failed. "Yes, sir," the youth answered.

Yeagley then called two witnesses — Ronald Morris of Alliance, parts manager at Courtesy Chevrolet, Sebring, and Floyd Woolf Jr. of Sebring, service manager at the Courtesy garage. They testified they examined the brakes of the defendant's car at an auto wrecking yard some time after the accident and found them in good working order.

Newell Resident Held To Court In Juvenile Charge

A Newell resident was bound over to the April term of the Hancock County Grand Jury and another's case was dismissed following a hearing before Squire Roy Hart at Newell.

Jerry Breedlove, 19, was held to court on a charge of harboring and contributing to the delinquency of minors. The same charges against James Cline, 19, have been dropped because of insufficient evidence.

The charges were filed by the father of the two minors, a 13-year-old boy and a 14-year-old girl, whom Breedlove allegedly had in an apartment in Newell.

In other action, Squire Hart fined two drivers for drag racing on charges he had filed against them.

Richard Davis Ammon of East Liverpool was fined $15.50 for disturbing the peace while Rick Ivan Frame of 916 Fairview St., East Liverpool, was fined $40.50 for hazardous driving. The hearings were held Monday night.

City Girl Faces Court In Charge Of Truancy

A 15-year-old girl who has been absent from Westgate School most of the school year appeared Tuesday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on a complaint of truancy.

Bernard Fineman of East Liverpool, counsel, said the girl is ill. Judge Tobin ordered her to attend school every day and, if absent for illness, to present a doctor's certificate.

The court directed the girl and her mother to arrange an appointment at the Child Counseling Center. The girl's report card is to be sent to Juvenile Court.

Industry Girl Listed In 'Fair' Condition

The condition of an Industry girl injured in an auto accident Saturday has improved, according to officials at Rochester General Hospital.

Miss Kathleen Basta, 16, is now listed "fair." She was a passenger in a car driven by Miss Susan Benek of Industry which collided with another auto on Engle Hill Rd. Miss Benek is also "fair."

Hydrant Found

East Liverpool's "missing" fire hydrant was found Tuesday night at 8:15 on the lawn at a Brightview Dr. home, police were advised. Asst. Fire Chief James Pelley had reported the disappearance of the fireplug Saturday afternoon, explaining it appeared the hydrant had been sheared off when hit by a motor vehile and then carried away.

Real name of Elmer Rice, the American playwright, was originally Reizenstein, but he changed it because it was too difficult to spell.

Probe Slated In Pittsburgh School Strife

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Representatives of the city, county and state say they will investigate Pittsburgh's racially - mixed schools following the second day of violence at Gladstone High School.

The probe was ordered Tuesday following a conference between Mayor Joseph Barr, District Attorney Robert Duggan and parents of children involved in the melee at Gladstone.

Black and white students clashed at the school in the Hazelwood section. Two boys were knifed, none seriously, and 16 were arrested.

Barr, while meeting with the parents, said antipoverty workers associated with Community Action — Pittsburgh, the city's antipoverty agency, might be involved in the violence.

A spokesman for the mayor said police were trying to track down rumors that city antipoverty workers were involved but couldn't verify them.

Duggan said he talked with Gov. Raymond Shafer, and said the governor favored the investigation. He also pledged all possible aid from the state police or other state agencies, said Duggan.

"We want to find out if there are any outside influences in these disturbances," Duggan said. "We want to know if there's been agitating resulting in unrest."

Survey Hits Pollution At Cumberland

survey of 12 physicians at Weirton General Hospital concerning the condition of air here indicated they all believed it unsatisfactory, the New Cumberland Air Pollution Committee reports.

The degree of air pollution was considered to be intolerable by 36 per cent of the doctors while 28 per cent felt the degree of air pollution was excessive and 36 per cent felt it was undesirable.

The doctors generally felt there has been an increase in health problems locally. These include eye, nose and throat disorders, lung and sinus problems, allergies and general respiratory cases.

A total of 91 per cent of the doctors interviewed named industrial fumes and smoke as the chief cause of air pollution. Auto exhaust fumes were listed second, with 45 per cent of the doctors agreeing.

A letter was received from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare stating that the Steubenville area is on the list of 32 air quality control regions. HEW said it expects to work on the area later this year. The letter commended the New Cumberland committee and the progress it has made.

Chairman Alice Mitchell reported, during a meeting Monday, on a visit to Columbus where she heard Robert L. Harris, a representative from HEW, speak on air pollution and the creation of air pollution regions.

Mrs. Mitchell also reported that she and Mayor Arthur Watson met with Gov. Arch A. Moore in Charleston and asked him to abate the air pollution caused by the Ohio Edison Co. plant at Toronto. Gov. Moore endorsed the resolution and then referred them to Carl Beard, director of the W. Va. Air Pollution Control Commission, for his endorsement.

Youth's Leg Injured During East End Fight

A 13-year-old East End youth was treated at City Hospital early Tuesday night for a fractured leg which he said he suffered in a fight with another boy.

The injured boy is Lewis A. Williams of 1701 Pennsylvania Ave., who was discovered at Oakland and Pennsylvania Aves. at 7:31 p.m. by Patrolman Charles Coen while on routine patrol. The officer said the boy was holding his leg and crying. He said in response to questions that he and another boy were fighting and the other youngster knocked him down, hurting his leg.

Noting the boy's leg was swollen and fearing it might be fractured, the officer took young Williams and his mother to the hospital in his cruiser. The boy was released after treatment.

Hearing Set Tuesday For Township Couple

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a rearing Tuesday for Clifford and Dorothy Payne of May Rd., Liverpool Township, accused of "destroying or injuring property not their own."

The affidavit was signed by Martha Gates, who did not list an address. It accuses the Paynes of destroying or damaging property last Thursday, including a television set, the rubber backing on carpets, clothing, dishes, a pole lamp, food, a crystal necklace and a woman's wristwatch.

Pollution Problem Aid Promised

Pension Fund Issue Back In Laps Of Ohio's Cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The mayors of Ohio nine largest cities got some encouragement Tuesday in their efforts to solve urban and water pollution problems, but had the sticky Police and Firemen's Pension Fund issue tossed right back at them.

Gov. James A. Rhodes told the mayors he would arrange to take them to Washington to make personal pleas for federal assistance in solving urban problems.

And he outlined a five-year plan for constructing water pollution control facilities, using federal funds and $100 million from state bond money.

The meeting with Rhodes came after the mayors and other officials spent two hours behind closed doors with Republican legislative leaders to discuss how to pay off the $413 million in accrued liabilities that the cities owe the statewide pension fund.

Neither the mayors nor House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, R-4 Bowling Green, and Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-3 Piqua, offered specific proposals.

"We had no specific proposals to make and the mayors didn't either," Kurfess said. "We asked them if they couldn't come up with specific suggestions."

Mayor John S. Ballard of Akron said the mayors will prepare a bill proposing recommendations for solving the problem.

He said the measure to be submitted to the legislature will contain a tax proposal to help the cities. He said this could include an income tax.

The meeting, termed by participants as successful, was the second by the mayors in two weeks to seek an answer to the pension fund problem. Representatives were here from Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Akron, Dayton, Canton, Springfield and Youngstown.

Rhodes told the group that he would try to arrange a meeting within 30 days in Washington with Sec. George Romney of Health, Education and Welfare.

Rhodes said he wanted the big-city mayors to "show a united front" in seeking federal assistance in solving urban problems.

Regarding water pollution, Rhodes offered a plan to share the State Issue No. 1 bond money with municipalities to build pollution control facilities. Distribution of the funds will require legislative approval.

Rhodes' five-year plan would cost an estimated $450 million with $100 milion coming from Issue 1, $300 million from Ohio Water Development Authority (OWDA) revenue bonds and a $50 million federal grant.

Rhodes suggested the $100 million be appropriated to the OWDA to help municipalities construct sanitary sewage projects. The proposal would have the municipalities paying 70 per cent of the cost with the state chipping in 30 per cent.

Rhodes said a study indicates that there are 224 projects which could qualify under this program.

He said the projects must be constructed between 1969-74 to meet the program or permit requirements of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board and be eligible for funds under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

It was the first time the mayors had heard the plan and there was little reaction to it. Most said they would have to study it further.

Rhodes said he hoped the total project could be funded 25 per cent by the state, 25 per cent by the cities and 50 per cent by the federal government.

Under the plan, municipalities may construct their own project or have the OWDA build it. Either way, cities would have to share in the cost.

Gifts Presented At PTA Meeting

HIGHLANDTOWN — A book marker was presented each teacher in honor of Founder's Day during the Highlandtown-No. 16 Parent - Teacher Association meeting Monday night at No. 16 School.

Mrs. Margery Smith, past president, made the presentations.

Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry was program chairman. All officers and committee chairmen were recognized.

The Rev. James McCollam of the Oak Ridge and Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Churches led devotions. Business was conducted by Mrs. Judy Mechanic.

The room count was won by Mrs. Ruth Hatcher's third grade. Refreshments were served by third-grade mothers.

The next meeting will be March 17 at the Highlandtown School.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I avoid damaging a nylon zipper with my hot iron?

A. — By placing a double thickness of medium - weight woolen material over the closed zipper placket. The heat of your iron will not affect the zipper, and the area will still be nicely pressed.

Q.—How can I add a "different" flavor to bread puddings?

A.—Try adding some graham crackers to the recipe.

Q.—Some of my dresses and skirts cling annoyingly to me as I walk. Is there any cure for this?

A.—Yes. Try starching your slips.

4 Provisions Set By Judge

Youth Given Probation In Accident Fatal To Two

LISBON — Judge Louis Tobin of Columbiana County Juvenile Court granted probation Tuesday to Randy K. Wilson, 17, of Sebring, who last May 18 was involved in a traffic accident that killed a Smiths Ferry couple.

Cars driven by the youth and Dan Katich, 73, of Smiths Ferry collided at the intersection of Route 62 and Johnson Rd. Three miles east of Alliance. Mr. Katich and his wife Sophie, 74, were killed.

Judge Tobin ordered the youth to:

(1) Surrender his driver's license and not to drive until Jan. 1, 1971; (2) beginning in June, pay $10 per week to the court until the sum of $1,500 is paid — primarily to go toward the funeral expenses of the victims, or, if that is not feasible, the money will be distributed to charity at the court's discretion; (3) report every other week to Myron West, Mahoning County probation officer who will act in this case for the court, and (4) be of good behavior and obey all laws.

The accident occurred the evening of May 18 as Randy and his date and another couple were on their way to the Sebring McKinley High School junior - senior program dinner at Alliance.

Ohio Highway patrolmen said Randy was driving south on Johnson Rd., went through the Route 62 stop sign and struck the eastbound Katich car in the south lane of Route 62.

Testifying at the trial Jan. 20, Randy declared his brakes failed.

Duane Yeagley, assistant prosecuting attorney, cited an Ohio Supreme Court ruling that brake failure is no defense for failure to halt for a stop sign and the trial ended abruptly when the boy's counsel, Michael Tangi of Alliance, withdrew his client's plea of not guilty and pleaded "no contest." He asked for probation and Judge Tobin set the hearing for yesterday.

As character witnesses yesterday, counsel called Coach Chet Jiffle of McKinley High; Chief of Police Paul Gednetz of Sebring and his wife, Evelyn Gednetz, guidance counselor at McKinley High; the Rev. C. O. Armstrong of the First United Presbyterian Church, Sebring; Donald Barcus of Sebring, project engineer for the East Ohio Machinery Co., and the boy's mother, Mrs. Sylvia Wilson Wright.

The sum of their testimony was that the youth is dependable, honest, intelligent and industrious and an excellent subject for probation.

A senior at McKinley, he is a member of the National Honor Society, ranks in the upper 10 per cent of his class, won the student - athlete award at the football banquet last fall, was a Boys State delegate last summer and has been nominated for both the U. S. Naval Academy and the Air Force Academy. He works after school and on weekends at an Alliance service station.

Yeagley said it is rare to have a boy of Randy's caliber in court, "but the only thing that bothers me is his story about how the accident happened. I don't believe he has been truthful with this court."

Yeagley called the youth to the witness chair yesterday and asked him if he still maintains the brakes failed. "Yes, sir," the youth answered.

Yeagley then called two witnesses — Ronald Morris of Alliance, parts manager at Courtesy Chevrolet, Sebring, and Floyd Woolf Jr. of Sebring, service manager at the Courtesy garage. They testified they examined the brakes of the defendant's car at an auto wrecking yard some time after the accident and found them in good working order.

Newell Resident Held To Court In Juvenile Charge

A Newell resident was bound over to the April term of the Hancock County Grand Jury and another's case was dismissed following a hearing before Squire Roy Hart at Newell.

Jerry Breedlove, 19, was held to court on a charge of harboring and contributing to the delinquency of minors. The same charges against James Cline, 19, have been dropped because of insufficient evidence.

The charges were filed by the father of the two minors, a 13-year-old boy and a 14-year-old girl, whom Breedlove allegedly had in an apartment in Newell.

In other action, Squire Hart fined two drivers for drag racing on charges he had filed against them.

Richard Davis Ammon of East Liverpool was fined $15.50 for disturbing the peace while Rick Ivan Frame of 916 Fairview St., East Liverpool, was fined $40.50 for hazardous driving. The hearings were held Monday night.

City Girl Faces Court In Charge Of Truancy

A 15-year-old girl who has been absent from Westgate School most of the school year appeared Tuesday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on a complaint of truancy.

Bernard Fineman of East Liverpool, counsel, said the girl is ill. Judge Tobin ordered her to attend school every day and, if absent for illness, to present a doctor's certificate.

The court directed the girl and her mother to arrange an appointment at the Child Counseling Center. The girl's report card is to be sent to Juvenile Court.

Industry Girl Listed In 'Fair' Condition

The condition of an Industry girl injured in an auto accident Saturday has improved, according to officials at Rochester General Hospital.

Miss Kathleen Basta, 16, is now listed "fair." She was a passenger in a car driven by Miss Susan Benek of Industry which collided with another auto on Engle Hill Rd. Miss Benek is also "fair."

Hydrant Found

East Liverpool's "missing" fire hydrant was found Tuesday night at 8:15 on the lawn at a Brightview Dr. home, police were advised. Asst. Fire Chief James Pelley had reported the disappearance of the fireplug Saturday afternoon, explaining it appeared the hydrant had been sheared off when hit by a motor vehile and then carried away.

Real name of Elmer Rice, the American playwright, was originally Reizenstein, but he changed it because it was too difficult to spell.

Probe Slated In Pittsburgh School Strife

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Representatives of the city, county and state say they will investigate Pittsburgh's racially - mixed schools following the second day of violence at Gladstone High School.

The probe was ordered Tuesday following a conference between Mayor Joseph Barr, District Attorney Robert Duggan and parents of children involved in the melee at Gladstone.

Black and white students clashed at the school in the Hazelwood section. Two boys were knifed, none seriously, and 16 were arrested.

Barr, while meeting with the parents, said antipoverty workers associated with Community Action — Pittsburgh, the city's antipoverty agency, might be involved in the violence.

A spokesman for the mayor said police were trying to track down rumors that city antipoverty workers were involved but couldn't verify them.

Duggan said he talked with Gov. Raymond Shafer, and said the governor favored the investigation. He also pledged all possible aid from the state police or other state agencies, said Duggan.

"We want to find out if there are any outside influences in these disturbances," Duggan said. "We want to know if there's been agitating resulting in unrest."

Survey Hits Pollution At Cumberland

survey of 12 physicians at Weirton General Hospital concerning the condition of air here indicated they all believed it unsatisfactory, the New Cumberland Air Pollution Committee reports.

The degree of air pollution was considered to be intolerable by 36 per cent of the doctors while 28 per cent felt the degree of air pollution was excessive and 36 per cent felt it was undesirable.

The doctors generally felt there has been an increase in health problems locally. These include eye, nose and throat disorders, lung and sinus problems, allergies and general respiratory cases.

A total of 91 per cent of the doctors interviewed named industrial fumes and smoke as the chief cause of air pollution. Auto exhaust fumes were listed second, with 45 per cent of the doctors agreeing.

A letter was received from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare stating that the Steubenville area is on the list of 32 air quality control regions. HEW said it expects to work on the area later this year. The letter commended the New Cumberland committee and the progress it has made.

Chairman Alice Mitchell reported, during a meeting Monday, on a visit to Columbus where she heard Robert L. Harris, a representative from HEW, speak on air pollution and the creation of air pollution regions.

Mrs. Mitchell also reported that she and Mayor Arthur Watson met with Gov. Arch A. Moore in Charleston and asked him to abate the air pollution caused by the Ohio Edison Co. plant at Toronto. Gov. Moore endorsed the resolution and then referred them to Carl Beard, director of the W. Va. Air Pollution Control Commission, for his endorsement.

Youth's Leg Injured During East End Fight

A 13-year-old East End youth was treated at City Hospital early Tuesday night for a fractured leg which he said he suffered in a fight with another boy.

The injured boy is Lewis A. Williams of 1701 Pennsylvania Ave., who was discovered at Oakland and Pennsylvania Aves. at 7:31 p.m. by Patrolman Charles Coen while on routine patrol. The officer said the boy was holding his leg and crying. He said in response to questions that he and another boy were fighting and the other youngster knocked him down, hurting his leg.

Noting the boy's leg was swollen and fearing it might be fractured, the officer took young Williams and his mother to the hospital in his cruiser. The boy was released after treatment.

Hearing Set Tuesday For Township Couple

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a rearing Tuesday for Clifford and Dorothy Payne of May Rd., Liverpool Township, accused of "destroying or injuring property not their own."

The affidavit was signed by Martha Gates, who did not list an address. It accuses the Paynes of destroying or damaging property last Thursday, including a television set, the rubber backing on carpets, clothing, dishes, a pole lamp, food, a crystal necklace and a woman's wristwatch.

Pollution Problem Aid Promised

Pension Fund Issue Back In Laps Of Ohio's Cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The mayors of Ohio nine largest cities got some encouragement Tuesday in their efforts to solve urban and water pollution problems, but had the sticky Police and Firemen's Pension Fund issue tossed right back at them.

Gov. James A. Rhodes told the mayors he would arrange to take them to Washington to make personal pleas for federal assistance in solving urban problems.

And he outlined a five-year plan for constructing water pollution control facilities, using federal funds and $100 million from state bond money.

The meeting with Rhodes came after the mayors and other officials spent two hours behind closed doors with Republican legislative leaders to discuss how to pay off the $413 million in accrued liabilities that the cities owe the statewide pension fund.

Neither the mayors nor House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, R-4 Bowling Green, and Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-3 Piqua, offered specific proposals.

"We had no specific proposals to make and the mayors didn't either," Kurfess said. "We asked them if they couldn't come up with specific suggestions."

Mayor John S. Ballard of Akron said the mayors will prepare a bill proposing recommendations for solving the problem.

He said the measure to be submitted to the legislature will contain a tax proposal to help the cities. He said this could include an income tax.

The meeting, termed by participants as successful, was the second by the mayors in two weeks to seek an answer to the pension fund problem. Representatives were here from Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Akron, Dayton, Canton, Springfield and Youngstown.

Rhodes told the group that he would try to arrange a meeting within 30 days in Washington with Sec. George Romney of Health, Education and Welfare.

Rhodes said he wanted the big-city mayors to "show a united front" in seeking federal assistance in solving urban problems.

Regarding water pollution, Rhodes offered a plan to share the State Issue No. 1 bond money with municipalities to build pollution control facilities. Distribution of the funds will require legislative approval.

Rhodes' five-year plan would cost an estimated $450 million with $100 milion coming from Issue 1, $300 million from Ohio Water Development Authority (OWDA) revenue bonds and a $50 million federal grant.

Rhodes suggested the $100 million be appropriated to the OWDA to help municipalities construct sanitary sewage projects. The proposal would have the municipalities paying 70 per cent of the cost with the state chipping in 30 per cent.

Rhodes said a study indicates that there are 224 projects which could qualify under this program.

He said the projects must be constructed between 1969-74 to meet the program or permit requirements of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board and be eligible for funds under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

It was the first time the mayors had heard the plan and there was little reaction to it. Most said they would have to study it further.

Rhodes said he hoped the total project could be funded 25 per cent by the state, 25 per cent by the cities and 50 per cent by the federal government.

Under the plan, municipalities may construct their own project or have the OWDA build it. Either way, cities would have to share in the cost.

Gifts Presented At PTA Meeting

HIGHLANDTOWN — A book marker was presented each teacher in honor of Founder's Day during the Highlandtown-No. 16 Parent - Teacher Association meeting Monday night at No. 16 School.

Mrs. Margery Smith, past president, made the presentations.

Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry was program chairman. All officers and committee chairmen were recognized.

The Rev. James McCollam of the Oak Ridge and Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Churches led devotions. Business was conducted by Mrs. Judy Mechanic.

The room count was won by Mrs. Ruth Hatcher's third grade. Refreshments were served by third-grade mothers.

The next meeting will be March 17 at the Highlandtown School.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I avoid damaging a nylon zipper with my hot iron?

A. — By placing a double thickness of medium - weight woolen material over the closed zipper placket. The heat of your iron will not affect the zipper, and the area will still be nicely pressed.

Q.—How can I add a "different" flavor to bread puddings?

A.—Try adding some graham crackers to the recipe.

Q.—Some of my dresses and skirts cling annoyingly to me as I walk. Is there any cure for this?

A.—Yes. Try starching your slips.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANTLERS

QUESTION: Why do deer need antlers?

* * * *

ANSWER: Cattle and some other animals have hollow horns, but a deer's antlers are different, being made of solid bone. Cattle retain their horns, but a deer sheds his antlers every year. It is in the winter that the male deer loses his antlers (the doe, or female deer, is without them). Missing these formidable weapons, the male deer becomes shy and retiring. As spring comes, new antlers start growing, but these are mere stumps at first, tender and covered with soft, velvety hair. With summer, the antlers are much larger and have begun to develop different points and become harder. By August they begin to look like the real thing, but still have the velvety covering. When, in the fall, this covering is finally rubbed off, the solid antlers emerge in their grandeur. Now the buck becomes aggressive. He's boss of his herd and will fight fiercely to preserve his authority if another buck deer should attempt to challenge it. He will also fight to protect his herd from predators. He's the king of the autumn woods and his fine new horns help him to prove it.

Seaman Conkle In Pacific Area For Third Time

Seaman Neal W. Conkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Conkle of Lawrenceville, has returned to the Western Pacific area, including Vietnam, for the third time.

He is serving for the second time aboard the carrier Valley Forge.

Last December the carrier completed underway training with a score of 93 per cent, the first carrier to pass such a test at San Diego in three years. The Valley Forge is the only ship of her class qualified for shore bombardment.

Seaman Conkle recently received his 'Good Conduct' ribbon and on Jan. 18 completed four years of service. While a senior at Oak Glen High School, he enlisted in the Reserves. Immediately after graduation he changed to active duty. He has about four more months to serve.

Conkle spent a leave from Dec. 29 to Jan. 27 with his sister, Mrs. JoAnn Hickman, and family in Hot Springs, Ark.

Girl Scout News

The Oriole patrol of Girl Scout Troop 176 of Midland Heights, feted members of the Parrot patrol at a surprise Valentine party Friday at the Midland Heights Community Building.

A cake depicting a Girl Scout camping theme and baked by troop members was used as a centerpiece. Decorated cupcakes and Valentine favors were served.

Games were played and work was completed on cooking badges. Plans were discussed for a bowling party.

The Parrot patrol will host the Oriole Patrol at a surprise party for a holiday soon.

At a meeting on Feb. 28 the girls will work on St. Patrick's Day favors for the County Home and practice for a play to be presented on Mother's Day.

Mrs. Casmir Vassalo and Mrs. Anthony Lozzi are leaders.

Prisoners Building New Penitentiary

LISBON (AP) — A new penitentiary to replace the 95-year-old structure in Lisbon is being built by the prisoners.

Inmates of the Lisbon Penitentiary will move to their new home — in Alcoentre 50 kilometers north of here — as soon as prison construction gangs complete the finishing touches. The prisoners building the new "pen" are on a rehabilitation project. The old building will be demolished to make room for a new palace of justice.

John J. Pershing, World War I leader, was the only officer to hold the title of "General of the Armies of the United States."

Peterson Given Flying Cross In Vietnam Heroism

Army Maj. Richard N. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Peterson of New Waterford RD 1, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross at Ft. Rucker, Ala., for heroism during a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Peterson, a 17-year veteran, was cited for "exceptionally valorous actions performed in August 1968 while serving as the aircraft commander on an AH-1G armed helicopter with F Troop, 8th Calvary."

"On that date," according to the citation, "Maj. Peterson was engaged on a reconnaissance mission for a ground unit five miles west of Tam Ky. He led his serial fire team on an aggressive attack against an enemy force that posed an immediate threat to the ground element.

"Even though he was receiving intense anti-aircraft fire on every attack on the target, Peterson, with complete disregard for his own personal safety, continued his attack on the enemy positions."

An instrument instructor with the Department of Rotary Wing Training, Army Aviation School, at Ft. Rucker, Ala., Peterson entered the Army in 1951, and underwent basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. He served with the Americal Division in Vietnam.

He also has received the Bronze Star Medal, 12 awards of the Air Medal and the Vietnamese Gallantry Cross.

The waterproof, outer garment known as the mackintosh was named for a Scottish inventor.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove grease spots from rugs?

A.—One often - successful method is to spread a paste of dry-cleaning fluid and powdered starch over the spot and let this dry completely. Then carefully scrape and vacuum up the dry dust. Stubborn spots may call for several applications.

Q.—How can I add extra saprkle to my glassware?

Q.—How can I make a good job of cleaning copper?

A.—If you'll rub copper with salt and lemon juice or with salt and vinegar, you'll have it clean and sparkling richly in jigtime.

Spec. Densmore Receives Medal For Viet Service

Spec. 5 Gary Dean Densmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Densmore of 7th Ave., LaCroft, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service at CuChi, Vietnam.

Densmore, who has been in Vietnam since last June, entered the service in February 1966 and underwent basic training at Ft. Benning, Ga. He had additional training at Ft. Sill, Okla., where he was graduated from non - commissioned officers' school.

Densmore also served 22 months in Bad Kissengen, Germany.

He serves with Headquarters Battery of the 13th Artillery of the 25th Infantry Division.

He is due to receive his separation from the service some time this month, the family said.

The common cold is the most common illness in the world.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove grease spots from rugs?

A.—One often - successful method is to spread a paste of dry-cleaning fluid and powdered starch over the spot and let this dry completely. Then carefully scrape and vacuum up the dry dust. Stubborn spots may call for several applications.

Q.—How can I add extra saprkle to my glassware?

A.—By adding a few pinches of borax to the water when you're washing it.

Q.—How can I make a good job of cleaning copper?

A.—If you'll rub copper with salt and lemon juice or with salt and vinegar, you'll have it clean and sparkling richly in jigtime.
